THE TRIUMPH OF DAVID.

CANTATA FOR CHURCH USE

By DUDLEY BUCK.

No. 1.

THE CAMP BY MOUNT GILBOA.

Soprano Solo (a Maiden of the Tribe of Judah) and Chorus of Women

ALAS ! in dire dissension are opposed
The house of David and the house of Saul.
Saul, the anointed king,
Doth seek our David's life, although in vain.
In ever growing radiance, as of old foretold,
Rises the first bright star of Judah's sacred line :
While weaker grows the house of Saul,
Ay, ever weaker, sinking to its fall.
And now our foes of grim Philistia
Have set their armies against us in array,
And Saul, with all of Israel,
Stands now encamped by proud Gilboa's mount.
The fateful day draws nigh ;
O God of Israel, protect our cause !

NO. 2.

WAR-SONG OF ISRAELITES.

WAR ! WAR !

Let the cry resound !
Fierce foes abound :
Slay ! slay !
Slay with the sword
All the accursed of the Lord !
Slay them all !
On Thee we call
Lord God of Hosts !

As smoke is driven away by the wind
So let them be driven away !
As wax is melted before the fire,
So let them perish !

Sharpen your lances ! test well the bow !
The might of Jehovah will vanquish the foe.
Smite ! smite ! when dawneth the day
'Twill find us prepared in battle-array.
With the morn
We'll put to scorn
Philistia's boasts !

To your tents, then, O Israel !
Night falleth o'er the plain :
'Till the trumpet calls again
Sleep ! sleep, ye chosen of the Lord,
While is kept due watch and ward ;
Sleep ! right calmly sleep !

No. 3.

SOPRANO SOLO.

In the night shall my song be of Him, and my prayer shall ascend to the God of my life. O Shepherd of Israel ! Thou who callest the stars by name, wilt Thou not hear me ?

I will lay me down in peace and take my rest, for it is Thou, Lord, Thou only that makest me to dwell in safety. For the angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him, and delivereth them. Yea, when the Philistine cometh, when the mighty take spear and bow, Thou art the strong Deliverer, the Lord, mighty in battle.

Therefore, will I lay me down in peace and take my rest, for it is Thou, Lord, Thou only, that makest me to dwell in safety.

NO. 4.

AT THE DAWN.

(Antiphonal Chorus)

Now the darkness flies,
Tho' yet the day-star shineth :
The rosy East entwineth
With gold the dusky skies.
Hail, sweet morning-dawn !
We greet thee, day new-born :
All hail, thou rising light !
To Thee, enthroned above,
Source of all light, be praise :
To Thee, our Israel's God.
Our morning hymn we raise
Let your prayers ascend
Right early in the morning,
Rising with the dawning
To Him, who doth defend.
Hail, mighty Lord !
Eternal One adored,
To Thee, all hail !
Thou sendest forth the Sun
As a giant his course to run ;
To Thee, all hail !
To Thee, arrayed in light,
As with a garment bright,
Hail, and thrice hail !
Throughout the coming day
O guide us and direct us :
With Thy right hand protect us
Upon our destined way.
Hail, mighty Lord !
Eternal One adored,
Hail ! hail ! thrice hail !

No. 5.

TENOR SOLO.

(David.)

How long, O Lord, wilt thou forget me ?
How long wilt Thou hide Thy face from me ?
How long shall mine enemies triumph over me ?
Consider, and hear me, O Lord.

My voice shalt Thou hear betimes, O Lord : early in the morning will I sing unto Thee, and praise Thy name. Let not mine enemy say "I have prevailed against him," for my trust is in Thy mercy and in Thy faithfulness.

Stand up, O Lord, in Thy might !
Arise ! judge Thou my cause !
Gird me with strength unto the battle !
And I will praise Thee, yea, I will
Sing to Thee upon the harp, and magnify
Thy glorious name, O Holy One of Israel.

No. 6.

SAUL'S PRESENTIMENT.

(FEMALE CHORUS AND BARITONE SOLO.)

Now it came to pass that when Saul saw the host of the Philistines encamped in Shunem, that he was sore afraid. Then enquired he of the Lord, but the Lord answered him not ; neither by prophets nor by dreams answered him the Lord.

SAUL.

I fain would converse hold with one whose magic power can question those who sleep the sleep of death. Yea, I must know what the impending hour shall bring to me and mine. Seek such an one, my servants true, that I may learn what fate may have in store.

FEMALE VOICES.

Then said his servants unto him : "Behold, there is now at Endor a woman who hath a familiar spirit, and she shall answer thee."

THREE MALE VOICES.

And Saul disguised himself and two men with him, and they came unto the woman by night.

No. 7.

THE WITCH OF ENDOR.

(A Cave in Mount Gilboa. Midnight.)

THE WITCH.

(Awaiting Saul.)

BURN, thou fire ! gleam, thou light !
Shining dim on mountain-height,
Unseen in vale below.
Fade, pale stars ! blow, chill wind !
Till the rightful spell I find—
Spirits your aid bestow !
Powers of Earth and Air,
Ye I invoke !
In the rising smoke
Your presence show !

Are ye here? to me draw near!

(Spirit-voices replying.)

We all are here!
We will appear!

THE WITCH.

Tell me, fire—say, thou light—
Why are the signs so dire to-night?
Why sighs the wind as in woe?
Show, bright gleam, who draweth near!
Why this secret, sudden fear,
While the night-birds fly to and fro?
Powers of Earth and Air,
Ye I invoke, etc.

No. 8.

SAUL AT ENDOR.

SAUL.

Here in this cave the Sorceress doth dwell,
We, hid in gloom, can see her plainly now,
Standing beside her fire with withered brow.
Why shakes she thus her wand? perchance she weaves her spell
And calls on powers of air, or fiends from hell.

THE WITCH.

Who stands without—so stern and fierce of mien?
What dire foreboding stirs my troubled breast?
What midnight guest art thou? Come! —let thy face be seen
Approach and speak! what is thy present quest?

SAUL.

It matters not whom I may be:—
Thou art the Witch of Endor!—thou art she
Who o'er the nether-world has power;
Lend me thine aid at this dread hour.

THE WITCH.

How knowest thou my name?
What seekest thou from one
Whom most do shun,
And under royal ban?

SAUL.

As best thou can weave now thy spell,
Thine incantations make,
Call every power familiar to thy craft;
And from the grave bid him arise
Whom I shall name to thee!
And thy reward shall princely be.

THE WITCH.

(Excitedly)

Know'st thou not the King's commandment?
Know'st thou not how Saul hath said :
*"On pain of death no witch nor wizard
Shall their arts employ within my kingdom"!*
Hast thou well heard the word? "On pain of death"!
Wherefore, then, layest thou a snare for my life
To cause me to die?
Ah, return thy way, return and leave me here
To brood o'er thoughts no law can reach.

SAUL.

As the Lord liveth, to thee shall come no harm
For this thy deed! Proceed! proceed!
This is the hour!—soon comes the dawn!

THE WITCH.

Within the dark Unknown whom seekest thou?
Whose buried form shall now
I bid arise?

SAUL.

Hear, then, a name renowned in Israel:—
Bring up to me—the shade of Samuel!

(The incantation proceeds.)

THE WITCH.

(Suddenly alarmed)

Ah!—why hast thou deceived me?
For thou art Saul!—thou art the King!

SAUL.

Be not afraid! thou hast our royal word.
Speak!—I adjure thee!
What sawest thou?

THE WITCH.

(Brokenly.)

I saw gods ascending out of the earth,
While earth in travail groans.
Oh, fatal spell! all hostile are the signs!
Too late! alas, too late!

SAUL.

(Excitedly.)

Too late for silence now—
Proceed!—I do command!
Again—What seest thou?

THE WITCH.

(Brokenly.)

The centre of a cloud—
—which a dim shape doth shroud—
It draweth near! it taketh form!
An old man cometh up
Enwrapped in mantle dark!

(The shade of Samuel appears.)

THE VOICE OF SAMUEL.

Saul ! Saul ! Oh, Saul !
Why is my sleep disquieted ?
Who art thou to call the dead ?

SAUL.

(In great agitation.)

I am sore distressed, for the Philistines make war against me, and God is departed from me. He answereth me no more, neither by prophets nor by dreams. Therefore, have I called thee. What shall I do ? Rend thou the veil which hides the coming day, and let me know what fate shall then be mine.

VOICE OF SAMUEL.

Thou hast not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor His commands against Amalek. Therefore, hearken and hear.

“ Ere the coming day is done,
Slain shalt thou be and slain thy son.
He shall lie all pale and low,
Pierced by shafts from many a bow ;
And the falchion by thy side,
To thy heart thy hand shalt guide.
So shall end in utter fall
Son and sire—the house of Saul.” *

The shade of Samuel vanishes.

SAUL.

O horror ! horror ! can it be ?
Hopeless, and more than desolate !
The battle lost ! my kingdom torn away !
In cloud and darkness thus to end !
O sorceress most dire, what message hast thou brought !

THE WITCH.

Behold, thine handmaid hath but obeyed thy voice,
And in thine hand her life hath placed.

SAUL.

’Tis well ! ’tis well ! for this night’s work
No harm shall thee befall. Farewell !
I must go forth to battle and to death.

THE WITCH.

O hapless king ! thy fate is seal’d now.
Farewell ! thou must go forth
To battle and to death.

BOTH.

O horror ! horror ! can it be ?
Hopeless, and more than desolate.

* These verses (and a few “nes elsewhere) are from the “ Hebrew Melodies ” by Lord Byron

No. 9.

MORNING AND BATTLE-ALARM.

(FEMALE VOICES.)

Again the morning cometh.
Though yet the day-star shineth.
The rosy East entwineth
With gold the dusky skies.
Hail, sweet morning dawn !
We greet thee, day new born !
Hail, rising light !

(MALE VOICES.)

To arms ! to arms ! the foe is nigh !
List to the hostile trumpets !
Take spear and sword in hand !
Advance without delay !
Tis come, the decisive day !
To arms, O Israel !

No. 10.

THE DEATH OF SAUL.

(Chorus.)

Now the Philistines fought against Israel, and the battle went sore against Saul : and the men of Israel fled, they fled before the Philistines, and fell down slain in Mount Gilboa.

Therefore, Saul took a sword and fell upon it, and the Philistines found him slain, he, and his sons. So died the king.

No. II.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

(David's Lament.)

Ye mountains of Gilboa, let not dew nor rain be upon you, for the mighty are fallen, fallen in the midst of the battle.

Tell it not in Gath ! publish it not in Askalon, lest the Philistines rejoice.
But mourn, ye daughters of Israel !
Weep, ye maids of Judah !

(FEMALE VOICES.)

We weep for Saul the anointed !
We lament and mourn for Jonathan !

DAVID.

O Jonathan, my brother,
For thee am I sore distressed ;
The beauty of Israel fallen,
With grief is my heart oppressed.
Mourn, ye daughters of Israel.

(FEMALE VOICES.)

We weep for Saul the anointed, etc.

DAVID.

O Jonathan, my brother,
How great was my love for thee !
But passing the love of woman
Was thy true love for me.
Mourn, ye daughters of Israel.

(FEMALE VOICES.)

We weep for Saul the anointed ;
We lament and mourn for Jonathan.

No. 12.

THE CORONATION AT HEBRON.

THEN came all the tribes unto David at Hebron, and spake, saying :

In the time past, when Saul was king, even then thou wast he that leddest out and broughtest in the armies of Israel. Now shall thy hands be strengthenéd, and thou shalt be a Captain over us, for thus saith the Lord.

And all the elders anointed David king over Israel, and all the people rejoiced and said : Long live the King ! Hail, David, hail !

(FEMALE VOICES.)

With song and dances
Behold advances
All the band of Israel's daughters ;
Their garlands flinging,
Their homage bringing,
To the king of Judah's line.
Hail, David, hail !

(MALE VOICES.)

With armor flashing,
With cymbals clashing,
Behold the warrior-host advances,
Bright weapons wielding,
Allegiance yielding
To David, king by right divine.
Hail, David, hail !

(FULL CHORUS.)

Thine, O Lord, is the power,
Thine the greatness and majesty:
All in the heav'ns and the earth is Thine,
And Thou art exalted o'er all.
Thou reignest triumphant forevermore.
Alleluia ! Amen !

Scriptural Interlude.

N.B. With the idea of rounding out the story of the relations of David to the house of Saul, it is suggested that the following passages of Scripture be read here by the Minister in charge of the service. —viz:

- { 1 Samuel, Chap. XVIII, verses 9 to 12 inclusive;
- { 1 Samuel, Chap. XIX, verses 1 to 13 inclusive;
- { 1 Samuel, Chap. XX, verses 24, 25 and 30 to 34
- { 1 Samuel, Chap. XXIV, verses 1 to 4, and 8 to 22.
