It is CICERO, I believe, who says "natura ad modos ducimur;" and the abundance of wild, indigenous airs, which almost every country, except England, possesses, sufficiently proves the truth of his assertion. The lovers of this simple, but interesting, kind of music are here presented with the First Number of a collection, which, I trust, their contributions will enable us to continue. A pretty air without words resembles one of those half creatures of PLATO, which are described as wandering in search of the remainder of themselves through the world. To supply this other half, by uniting with congenial words the many fugitive melodies which have hitherto had none, or only such as are unintelligible to the generality of their hearers, is the object and ambition of the present work. Neither is it our intention to confine ourselves to what are strictly called national melodies, but, wherever we meet with any wandering and beautiful air, to which Poetry has not yet assigned a worthy home, we shall venture to claim it as an estrays swan, and enrich our humble Hippocrene with its song.

It is not, indeed, without strong hopes of success that I present this First Number of our miscellany to the Public. As the music is not my own, and the words are little more than unpretending interpreters of the sentiment of each air, it will not perhaps be thought presumption in me to say, that I consider it one of the simplest and prettiest collections of songs to which I have ever set my name.

SO WARMLY WE MET.

Hungarian (Air)

(With)
Underpings

So warmly we met and so fondly we parted, That which was the sweeter ev'n I could not tell, That first look of welcome her sunny eyes darted, Or that tear of passion which bless'd our farewell. To meet was a Heav'n- and to part thus an-other, Our joy and our sorrow seem'd rivals in bliss; Oh Cupid's two eyes are not lik_er each o_ther, In smiles and in tears, than that moment to this.

8va

The first was like day-break, new, sudden, delicious, The dawn of a pleasure scarce kin_dled up yet— The last was that farewell of day-light, more precious, More glowing and deep, as 'tis near-er its set. Our meet-ing, tho' happy, was ting'd by a sorrow, To think that such happiness could not remain, While our parting, tho' sad, gave a hope that tomorrow Would bring back the blest hour of meeting again.

THOSE EV'NING BELLS.

19

(Air - The Bells of St. Petersburg)

*Pensively
and in Moderate
Time?*

Those ev'n-ing bells, those ev'n-ing bells, How many a tale their mu-sic tells Of youth and home and that sweet time, When last I heard their soothing chime! Of youth and home and that sweet time, When last I heard their sooth-ing chime!

* It will be perceived that the Air is here made the Accompaniment.

Those joy-ous hours are past a-way, And many a heart, that then was gay, With-in the tomb now dark-ly dwells And hears no more those ev'-ning bells, With-in the tomb now darkly dwells And hears no more those ev'ning bells .

And so 'twill be, when I am gone, That tuneful peal will still ring on, While o - ther bards shall walk these dells, And sing your praise, sweet ev'ning bells! While o - ther bards shall walk these dells, And sing your praise, sweet ev'ning bells!

SHOULD THOSE FOND HOPES.

Portuguese (Air)With Expression

* Should those fond hopes e'er forsake thee, Which now so sweetly thy heart employ, Should the cold world come to wake thee From all thy visions of youth and joy. Should the gay friends for whom thou wouldst banish Him who once thought thy young heart his own, All, like springbirds, false - ly vanish, And leave thy winter unheed-ed and lone.

Oh! 'tis then he thou hast slighted Would come to cheer thee, when all seem'd

The first system of music, measures 24-25. It features a vocal melody in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a piano accompaniment in grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The lyrics are: "o'er; Then the truant, lost and blight-ed, Would to his bosom be taken once".

Sicilian. (iv.)

With feeling

The piano introduction consists of two staves. The right hand plays a melody in treble clef, and the left hand plays a supporting accompaniment in bass clef. The key signature has three sharps (F#, C#, G#) and the time signature is 4/4. The melody begins with a half note F#4, followed by quarter notes G#4, A4, B4, and C5, then a half note B4, and a final half note A4 with a fermata.

Fare thee well, thou love-ly one! Love-ly still, but dear no more;—

The first line of the song features a vocal melody in treble clef and a piano accompaniment in bass clef. The vocal line starts with a half note F#4, followed by quarter notes G#4, A4, B4, and C5, then a half note B4, and a final half note A4 with a fermata. The piano accompaniment consists of a steady eighth-note pattern in the left hand and a melody in the right hand.

Once his soul of Truth is gone, Love's sweet life is o'er. Thy

The second line of the song continues the vocal melody and piano accompaniment. The vocal line starts with a half note F#4, followed by quarter notes G#4, A4, B4, and C5, then a half note B4, and a final half note A4 with a fermata. The piano accompaniment continues with the same eighth-note pattern in the left hand and melody in the right hand.

OFT IN THE STILLY NIGHT.

*Scotch Air,With Melancholy
Expression*

The musical score is written in 2/4 time. The piano introduction begins with a treble clef staff marked pp and an 8va line. The vocal melody is written in a treble clef, and the piano accompaniment is in a bass clef. The lyrics are as follows:

Oft in the stil-ly night, Ere slumber's chain has bound me, Fond mem'ry brings the light Of o-ther days a-round me. The smiles, the tears of boy-hood's years, The words of love then spok-en, The eyes that shone, now dimm'd and gone, The cheerful hearts now brok-en!

Thus in the stil-ly night, Ere slumber's chain has bound me, Sad mem'ry brings the light Of other days a-round me.

When I re-mem-ber all The friends, so link'd to-ge-ther,

I've seen a-round me fall, Like leaves in win-try weather; I feel like one, who treads a_lone Some ban-quet-hall, desert - - ed, Whose lights are fled, whose gar-lands dead, And all, but he, de-part-ed! Thus in the stil-ly night, Ere slumber's chain has bound me, Sad mem'ry brings the light Of other days a-round me.
