Kalbeck, der erste Brahms-Biograph, berichtet eine Anekdote: Nach einer Probe des Werkes habe er den Komponisten gefragt, ob es nicht die geheime Überschrift „Brahms im Prater“ habe. Dieser soll vergnügt schmunzelnd erwidert haben: „Getroffen“ und soll mit schelmischem Augenblinzeln hinzugefügt haben: „Nicht wahr? Und die vielen hübschen Mädchen drin.“ Die an Walzer erinnernden Abschnitte mögen ein Indiz dafür sein, dass der Bericht zutreffen könnte.
