First Sister

Andante

Who fed me from her gen-tle breast; and hush'd me in her Arms to rest, and on my cheeks sweet Kisses prest, my Mother ^{Sy^z} when sleep forsook my o-pen eye, who was it sung sweet lu--la--by, and rock'd me that I should not cry, my Mother ^{Sy^z} who sat and watch'd my In-fant Head when sleeping on my cra-dle bed, and tears of sweet af-fec-tion shed, my Mother when

Slower
pain and sick-ness made me cry, when laid up on my bed, and wept for fear that I should die, my Mother, who

Quicker ran to help me when I fell, and would some pretty story tell, and kiss the place to make it well, my Mother, who taught my Infant lips to love Gods ho-ly word and day, and

Slower Tempo Slower walk in wisdoms pleasant way, my Mother Sy: and can I e-ver cease to be, af-fec-tionate and kind to them who

Tempo Primo was so ve-ry kind to me, my Mother Sy: O no; the thought I can-not bear, and if God please my life to spare, I hope I shall re-ward thy care, my Mother Sy: when

Slower

p thou art fee-ble old and grey, my health-f Arm shall be thy stay, and I will soothe thy pains a-way, my Slow

Tempo Mother Sy: and when I see thee *Slower and p Piano* hang thy head, m Twill be my turn to watch thy Bed, and p tears of sweet af-fec-tion shed, my Mother, my Mother Slower the other Side Sy:
