PREFACE.

If the question be asked, "Why add another to the many books of Church Music now before the public?" the reply must be similar to what would be appropriate, were the same inquiry to be made respecting a new book on any branch of science, art, morals, or literature. Books on all subjects, except there be some unnatural restraint to prevent, will be multiplied in proportion to the number and acquisitions of those who read them; and this very multiplicity, taken in connection with the very great variety of character and style necessarily involved, tends directly to increase both the number and attainments of their readers.

So it is in music. In proportion as the art is extended, an increasing number and variety of books become necessary; while, on the other hand, an enlargement of the catalogue of books will directly facilitate the progress of music itself. What friend of musical cultivation, therefore, and may we not add, what true philanthropist, will fail to rejoice in the publication of any new book of Church Music, which, being founded on correct principles of science and taste, helps to enlarge the boundaries and to extend the knowledge of the art?

Every well organized choir, if kept up with interest, must have a constant succession of new music; without this there will be no advancement. The same principle applies in every other case. The progress of things is ever onward, and why should it be expected that a choir of singers must remain satisfied with singing over for any considerable length of time, the same tunes, any more than that a literary community should be satisfied with reading over and over the same books. Nor is this constant desire for new music any disparagement to the old tunes of standard merit. Many of these are unrivalled. So is Milton. But is this latter fact any reason why no one should write poetry at the present period? How many poets would have written since Milton if none had been encouraged but those who were as good as himself? The old tunes may be the best,—much the best, if you please, and still the modern tunes may possess some value, and some that is not found in their predecessors, and some that is worth having. To say the least, they increase the variety, and that is, as Cowper says,

—"The very spice of life,
That gives it all its savor."

The Handel and Haydn Society Collection of Church Music, by the Editor of this work, was first published in 1822. The Choir, or Union Collection, in 1832. The Boston Academy's Collection in 1835, and the Modern Psalmist in 1839. In this last named work the four parts are printed upon two staves, after the manner of publishing similar works in Germany; but notwithstanding the advantages of this arrangement of the parts, there are many who prefer the common mode of printing. This consideration together with the fact that the Editor had on hand much valuable music recently received from distinguished European composers, which he could hardly feel justified in withholding from the public, has led to the publication of *Carmina Sacra at the present time.

The Metrical part of the work will be found to contain not only a choice selection of the old standard tunes, which, though often republished, are always in demand, and which are as necessary to every singing book, designed for general use, as ballast is to a ship,—but also many new tunes, embracing specimens from distinguished composers of the present day in Europe, together affording such a diversity of style, in melody, harmony and rhythmical structure, as cannot fail to be highly interesting to the lovers of sacred song. In the department of Motetts, Anthems, &c., will be found many new and interesting pieces never before published, and also others now first adapted to English words. The variety of Chants is also greater than is usual in similar works.

In the Introductory department, containing the elements of vocal music, the general arrangement of the Modern Psalmist has been followed, with this important exception however, that the different departments, (Rhythm, Melody and Dynamics,) are intermingled in the same order as it is usual to teach them in singing schools. The teacher, therefore, will not have to skip about from place to place, but merely to follow the regular succession of chapters as they occur. Unlike the "Manual of Instruction of the Boston Academy of Music,"† which professes to teach how to teach, and with the contents of which every teacher, therefore, should be familiar, this work merely contains in a didactic form those doctrines or principles which are necessary to be taught, leaving the teacher to pursue his own method of explanation and illustration.

The Codas added to many of the tunes form quite a new feature in a book of this kind, and it is hoped they may add interest to the performance of psalmody. Although they are called codas, yet they are not designed for the close, merely, but may be introduced before the first stanza, or between the stanzas of a hymn, as may be appropriate. In the singing school and choir meetings, they may always be sung, but in public worship the propriety of singing them must depend upon the circumstances of the occasion, hymn, &c. The hymns in which these Hallelujahs may with propriety be introduced, are more numerous than may be at first supposed; for under what circumstances does not the devout heart say, "Praise the Lord?" "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him."

* Carmina Sacra.

† The Editor having seen several recent notices of this work, in which it seemed to be taken for granted that he was the author of the mode of teaching which is explained in the Manual, and which is commonly called the Pestalozzian method,—a method now so generally adopted,—takes this opportunity to correct this error; and for this purpose refers to the Manual itself, p. 14, §3. In addition to which he would also state, that the work of Kübler there mentioned, was mostly followed, so much so indeed that to a great extent the Manual may be called a translation of that work.

ELEMENTS OF VOCAL MUSIC.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL DIVISION OF THE SUBJECT.

- § I. Musical sounds may be 1. Long or Short.
2. High or Low.
3. Soft or Loud.

- § II. In the elementary principles of music there are three departments :
1. RHYTHM. This is founded on the first of the above distinctions, and treats of the length of sounds.
 2. MELODY. This is founded on the second distinction, and treats of the pitch of sounds.
 3. DYNAMICS. This is founded on the third distinction, and treats of the power of sounds.

§ III. GENERAL VIEW.

Distinctions.	Departments.	Subjects.
LONG or SHORT.	RHYTHM.	LENGTH.
HIGH or LOW.	MELODY.	PITCH.
SOFT or LOUD.	DYNAMICS.	POWER.

QUESTIONS.

How many distinctions exist in the nature of musical sounds?—What is the first? Second? Third?—How many departments are there in the elementary principles of music?—What is the first department called? Second? Third?—What is that distinction in the nature of musical sounds, on which Rhythm is founded? Melody? Dynamics?—What is that department called which relates to the Length of sounds? Pitch? Power?—In how many ways do musical sounds differ?—How many essential properties have musical sounds? What are they?—What is the subject of Rhythm? Melody? Dynamics?—If sounds differ from one another only as it respects their length, is the difference Rhythmical, Melodic, or Dynamic?—If sounds differ with respect to their pitch, is the difference Rhythmical, Melodic, or Dynamic?—If sounds differ with respect to their power, is it a Rhythmical, Melodic, or Dynamic difference?

CHAPTER II.

RHYTHM.

DIVISIONS OF TIME, BEATING TIME, ACCENT.

- § IV. The length of sounds is regulated by a division of the time occupied in the performance of music into equal portions.
- § V. The portions of time into which music is divided are called MEASURES.
- § VI. Measures are divided into PARTS OF MEASURES.
- § VII. A measure with two parts is called DOUBLE measure.
- | | | | | |
|---|-------|---|---|--------------------|
| " | THREE | " | " | TRIPLE measure. |
| " | FOUR | " | " | QUADRUPLE measure. |
| " | SIX | " | " | SEXTUPLE measure. |

- § VIII. The character used for separating measures is called a BAR—thus, |

NOTE. Observe the difference between a measure and a bar. Do not call a measure, a bar.

- § IX. To aid in the computation and accurate division of time, certain motions of the hand are made. This is called Beating Time.

NOTE. Every person learning to sing should give strict attention to beating time. Experience proves that where the habit of beating time is neglected, the ability to keep time is seldom acquired.

- § X. Double measure has two beats: first, Downward; second, Upward. Accented on the first part of the measure.

- § XI. Triple time has three beats: first, Downward; second, Hither; third, Upward. Accented on the first part of the measure.

- § XII. Quadruple time has four beats: first, Downward; second, Hither, third, Thither; fourth, Upward. Accented on the first and third parts of the measure.

§ XIII. Sextuple time has six beats: first, Downward; second, Downward; third, Hi ther; fourth, Thi ther; fifth, Upward; sixth, Upward. Accented on the first and fourth parts of the measure.

NOTE. The hi ther beat is made horizontally to the left, the thi ther beat to the right. For the first downward beat, in Sextuple time, let the hand fall half the way, and for the second, the remainder § XIV. One measure in Quadruple is equivalent to two measures in Double time; and one measure in Sextuple is equivalent to two measures in Triple time.

NOTE. The most important requisite in all good performance is accuracy of time. It is this that binds a choir together, and carries them safely through the most difficult rhythmical combinations. To acquire the habit of keeping good time requires much patience and perseverance; and it is in this that those who commence learning to sing are most likely to fail. The school should now be exercised in beating time, and in singing one sound to the syllable LA to each part of the measure.

QUESTIONS.

How is the length of sounds regulated (or governed) in music?—What are the portions of time called into which music is divided?—What portions of time are smaller than measures?—How many kinds of measure are there?—How many parts has double measure? Triple? Quadruple? Sextuple?—On which part of the measure is double time accented? Triple? Quadruple? Sextuple?—What is the character called which is used for separating the measures?—What distinguishes one kind of time from another?—In beating time, how many motions has double time? Triple? Quadruple? Sextuple?—What is the use of beating time?

CHAPTER III.

RHYTHM—OF NOTES.

§ XV. The length of sounds is indicated by the form of certain characters called NOTES.

§ XVI. There are five kinds of notes in common use, viz:

WHOLE NOTE		(Semibreve.)
HALF NOTE		(Minim.)
QUARTER NOTE		(Crotchet.)
EIGHTH NOTE		(Quaver.)
SIXTEENTH NOTE		(Semiquaver)

§ XVII. Besides the above there are sometimes used THIRTY-SECONDS

SIXTY-FOURTHS —and also, DOUBLE notes  or .

Sing in Quadruple time all the notes in common use.

§ XVIII. A Dot (.) adds one half to the length of a note. Thus a dotted half  is equal in length to three quarters .

QUESTIONS.

What are those characters called which represent the length of sounds?—Are notes rhythmical, melodic, or dynamic characters?—How many kinds of notes are there in common use?—What is the longest note called? The next? &c.—How much does a dot add to the length of a note?—What do notes represent?—What are notes for?

CHAPTER IV. MELODY.

THE SCALE. (DIATONIC SCALE, MAJOR.)

§ XIX. At the foundation of Melody lies a series of sounds called the SCALE.

§ XX. The sounds of the scale are designated by numerals, viz: ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR, FIVE, SIX, SEVEN, EIGHT.

§ XXI. The first seven letters of the alphabet are applied to the sounds of the scale, as follows: to one C, to two D, to three E, to four F, to five G, to six A, to seven B, and to eight C.

§ XXII. In singing the scale, the following syllables are used:

Written, Do, RE, MI, FA, SOL, LA, SI, Do.
Pronounced, Doe, Ray, Mee, Fah, Sole, Lah, See, Doe.

Illustration of the Scale, with numerals, letters and syllables.

NOTE. The scale should be sung to the class slowly and distinctly, to the syllable La, or to numerals, beginning at a suitable pitch, ascending and descending several times until they may be supposed to have a clear idea of it, when they may be required to sing it themselves. A few will almost always be found, say from five to ten in a class of a hundred, who cannot at first get the sounds right. These cannot go on with the others with advantage to either party, but if they can practise in a separate class they may, probably, by extra exertion, succeed. As the difficulty in such cases is almost always with the ear, listening to the singing of others is of much greater importance to such persons than any attempt to sing themselves.

§ XXIII. The difference of pitch between any two sounds is called an INTERVAL. Thus, from one to two is an interval, &c.

§ XXIV. In the scale, there are five larger and two smaller intervals, the former called STEPS and the latter HALF-STEPS.

§ XXV. The half-steps occur between the sounds three and four, and seven and eight; between the other sounds the interval is a step.

QUESTIONS.

What is the second distinction in musical sounds?—What is the department called, arising out of this distinction?—Of what does Melody treat?—What is that series of sounds called, which lies at the foundation of Melody?—How many sounds are there in the scale?—How do we designate, or speak of the sounds of the scale? Numerals.—What is the first sound of the scale called? One. What the second? Two. &c.—What letter is one? Two? Three? &c.—What syllable is sung to one? To two? &c.—What letter is one? What syllable?—What numeral is C?—What numeral is Do? &c.—What is the difference of pitch between two sounds called?—How many intervals are there in the scale?—How many kinds of intervals are there in the scale?—What are the larger intervals called? Smaller?—How many steps are there in the scale? How many half-steps?—What is the interval from one to two? Two to three? Three to four? &c.

CHAPTER V.

MELODY. THE STAFF AND CLEFS.

§ XXVI. The pitch of sounds is represented by a character called a STAFF, on which the scale, or other music, is written in notes.

§ XXVII. The Staff consists of five lines, and the spaces between them.

§ XXVIII. Each line and space is called a DEGREE; thus, there are nine degrees: five lines and four spaces.

§ XXIX. When more than nine degrees are wanted, the spaces below or above the Staff are used; also additional lines called ADDED lines.

Fourth line.	Fourth space.
Third line.	Third space.
Second line.	Second space.
First line.	First space.
	Space below.	Added line below.

§ XXX. In writing the scale on the staff, one may be placed on either of its degrees, and the other sounds follow in regular order; thus, if one be placed on the first line, two will be on the first space, three on the second line, and so on; or, if one be placed on the first space, two will be on the second line, and so on.

§ XXXI. There are two ways in which the scale is commonly written on the staff; first, one on the added line below; and second, one on the second space.

§ XXXII. To distinguish between these two ways of writing the scale, or to fix the position of the letters on the staff, a character is used called a CLEF.

§ XXXIII. There are two Clefs in common use: the G Clef (Treble; and the F Clef (Base).

§ XXXIV. The G clef, which signifies G, is placed on the second line.

§ XXXV. The F clef, which signifies F, is placed on the fourth line.

§ XXXVI. When the G clef is used, the sound one is written on the added line below (C); and when the F clef is used, it is written on the second space (C).

Example 1. The Scale, G clef, ascending and descending.

Example 2. The Scale, F clef, ascending and descending.

QUESTIONS.

What is that character called, which represents the pitch of sounds?—Is the staff a rhythmical, melodic or dynamic character? Why?—How many lines are there in the staff? How many spaces?—What is each line and space of the staff called?—How many degrees does the staff contain?—(Pointing to the staff,) Which line is this? Space? &c.—(Pointing to the staff,) Which degree of the staff is this? &c.—What is the space above the staff called? Space below?—If lines are added below the staff, what are they called? If added above the staff, what are they called?—Where upon the staff is one usually written? Where two? Three? &c.—What letter is one? Two? Three? &c.—What syllable is one? Two? Three? &c.—On what other degree of the staff, besides the added line below, is one often written?—How can we tell whether one be written on the added line below, or on the second space?—How many clefs are there?—What are they called?—What does the G clef signify?—What does the F clef signify?—If the G clef is used, where must one be written?—If the F clef is used, where must one be written?

CHAPTER V.

RHYTHM—VARIETIES OF MEASURE

§ XXXVII. Each kind of time may have as many varieties as there are different notes. These varieties are obtained by the use of the different notes on each part of the measure.

§ XXXVIII. Time is marked by figures which express the number of parts and contents of the measure; the upper figure or NUMERATOR showing the number of parts, or kind of time; and the lower figure or DENOMINATOR denoting the particular note used on each part of the measure, or the variety of time.

Examples of some of the common varieties of measure.

NOTE. Other varieties also may be used; as,

$$\begin{array}{c} 2 & 2 & 3 & 3 & 4 & 4 & 6 & 6 \\ 1 & 8 & 8 & 16 & 2 & 8 & 16 & 2 & 8 \end{array} \text{ \&c.}$$

NOTE. It is to be observed, that notes have no positive, but only a relative length. The example 2-2 is not necessarily either slower or quicker than 2-4; 3-2 is neither slower nor quicker than 3-8, &c. The different varieties of time in each of the above examples are practically the same. To the eye they are different, to the ear alike.

QUESTIONS.

How many kinds of time are there?—How many varieties in each kind of time?—How are the different varieties of time obtained?—By which figure is the kind of time designated?—By which figure is the variety of time designated?—What is the upper figure (numerator) for?—What is the lower figure (denominator) for?—Do the different varieties of time differ to the ear, or to the eye only?—What does the numerator express (or number)?—What does the denominator express (or denominator)?—Suppose the figures to be 4-4, what two notes will fill a measure? What one note? What four? &c.

NOTE. Similar questions may also be asked in reference to the different kinds and varieties of time

CHAPTER V.

RHYTHM—DIFFERENT NOTES APPLIED TO THE DIFFERENT VARIETIES OF MEASURE; AND DIFFERENT NOTES IN THE SAME MEASURE.

§ XXXIX. Different notes may occur in every variety of measure.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES. Syllable la.

§ XL. Different notes may occur in the same measure.

PRACTICAL EXERCISE.

§ XLI. The singing may commence on some other part of the measure than the first.

PRACTICAL EXERCISE.

CHAPTER VII.

RHYTHMICAL CLASSIFICATION; OR PRIMITIVE AND DERIVED RELATIONS, OR FORMS OF MEASURE. ONE NOTE TO EACH PART OF THE MEASURE. SIMPLE FORMS.

§ XLII. When each part of a measure is occupied by the particular note designated by the figure denoting the variety of time, the measure is said to be in its primitive relation. Thus, if the denominator be 2, the primitive relation of the measure is halves; if 4, quarters; if 8, eighths, &c. Such forms of measure with their derivatives are called Simple Relations. The primitive note is taken as a standard by which to determine the length of others.

NOTE. By relation is meant the form or order of filling a measure.

§ XLIII. DERIVED RELATIONS, or forms, are obtained from the primitive relation, by uniting two or more parts of the measure.

EXAMPLE.

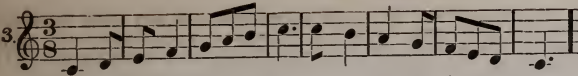

Quarter Relations.

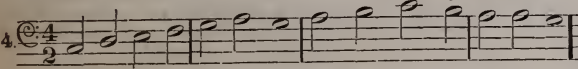

NOTE. It will be observed that in the first class the union commences with the first part of the measure; in the second class it commences with the second part, &c. The second derivative in the third class, may be considered as irregular. Other simple forms, or relations, should be exhibited to the school, as 4-2, 3-2, 3-4, 4-8, 3-8, &c. This subject should be well understood.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES, in different Rhythmical Forms.

4.

Let us with a joy-ful mind, Praise the Lord, for he is kind;
For his mer-cies shall en-dure Ev-er faith-ful, ev-er sure.

QUESTIONS.

When is a measure said to be in its primitive form?—What is the primitive form of the measure marked 4-4?—What is the primitive form of the measure marked 4-2? 4-8? 3-4? 3-2 4-16? &c.—Why is the primitive form of any measure called so? Ans. Because it is just what is expressed by the figures. [It is also the most natural and easy form in which the measure can appear.]—What are all other forms of measure besides the primitive called?—How are derived forms obtained from the primitive?—How many derivatives are there in the first class? Second? Third?—What is peculiar to the derivatives of the first class? Second?—What is peculiar to the first derivative of the third class?—Why is the second derivative in the third class called irregular?—How can derived forms be reduced to primitive?—When a note commences on an unaccented part of a measure, and is continued on an accented part of the measure, what is it called? Ans. Syncopated note.—In which class are syncopated notes found?

NOTE. It is thought unnecessary to repeat the questions for different kinds, or varieties of measure, as 3-4, 3-2, 4-2, 4-8, &c. If the principle be understood, it can easily be applied to these and other varieties of measure.

CHAPTER VIII.

QUARTER, HALF AND WHOLE RESTS. TIED NOTES.

§ XLIV. When a measure, or part of a measure is to be passed over in silence, it is indicated by a character called a REST

§ XLV. Each note has its corresponding Rest

EXAMPLE.

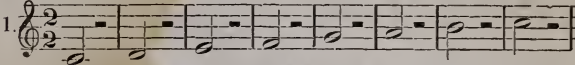

Quarter Rests.	Half Rests.	Whole Rest.

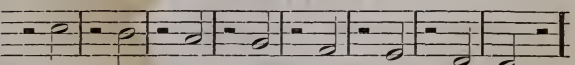

QUESTIONS.

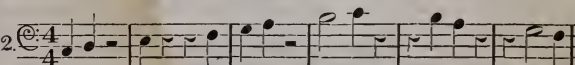

When a measure or part of a measure is passed over in silence, what is it called?—What are those characters called, which indicate silence?—Are rests rhythmical, melodic, or dynamic characters? Why?—How many kinds of rests are there?

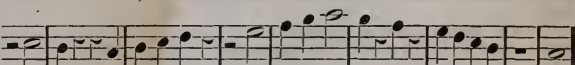

NOTE. Exercise at present, only on whole, half, and quarter rests.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES. Rhythm and Melody. The scale with rests.

1.

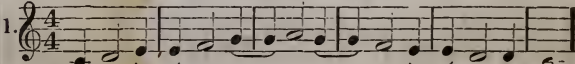

2.

3.

4.

§ XLVI. Two notes tied together represent one sound.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

1.

CHAPTER IX.

DYNAMICS. DEGREES. PIANO, MEZZO AND FORTE.

§ XLVII. MEZZO. A sound produced by the ordinary exertion of the vocal organs, is a medium or middle sound; it is called MEZZO, (pronounced met-zo) and is marked m.

§ XLVIII. PIANO. A sound produced by some restraint of the vocal organs, is a soft sound; it is called PIANO, (pronounced pee-án-o) and is marked p.

§ XLIX. FORTE. A sound produced by a strong or full exertion of the vocal organs, is a loud sound; it is called FORTE, and is marked f.

NOTE. Mezzo, Piano and Forte are Italian words, which, by long usage, have become technical terms in music, and are used by all nations.

EXERCISE.

§ L. PIANISSIMO. If a sound is produced by a very small, but careful exertion of the vocal organs, softer than piano, yet so loud as to be a good audible sound, it is called PIANISSIMO, (pronounced pee-an-is-si-mo) and is marked pp.

§ LI. FORTISSIMO. If a sound is produced with still greater exertion of the vocal organs than is required for forte, but not so loud as to degenerate into a scream, it is called FORTISSIMO, and is marked ff.

EXERCISES.

QUESTIONS.

What is the third distinction in musical sounds?—What is the department called, which arises out of this distinction?—What is the subject of Dynamics?—When a sound is neither loud nor soft, what is it called? How marked?—When a sound is soft, what is it called? How marked?—When a sound is loud, what is it called? How marked?—If a sound is very soft, what is it called? How marked?—If a sound is very loud, what is it called? How marked?—What does Piano, or P signify?—What does Forte, or F signify?—What does Mezzo, or M signify?—What does Pianissimo, or PP signify?—What does Forzissimo, or FF signify?

CHAPTER X.

LESSONS IN WHICH THE VARIOUS SOUNDS OF THE SCALE PROCEED, NOT ACCORDING TO THEIR REGULAR ORDER OF PROGRESSION, BUT BY SKIPS.

§ LII. One and three. With these two sounds the following changes may be produced: 1 3, 3 1.

§ LIII. One, three and five. With these sounds the following changes may be produced: 1 3 5, 1 5 3, 3 1 5, 3 5 1, 5 1 3, 5 3 1.

§ LIV. One, three, five and eight. With these sounds the following changes may be produced:

1 3 5 8	3 1 5 8	5 1 3 8	8 1 3 5
1 3 8 5	3 1 8 5	5 1 8 3	8 1 5 3
1 5 3 8	3 5 1 8	5 3 1 8	8 3 1 5
1 5 8 3	3 5 8 1	5 3 8 1	8 3 5 1
1 8 3 5	3 8 1 5	5 8 1 3	8 5 1 3
5 3	3 8 5 1	5 8 3 1	8 5 3 1

§ LV. One, three, five, eight and seven. Seven naturally leads to eight. Eight, therefore, will serve as a guide to seven. In order to sing seven right, think of eight.

§ LVI. One, three, five, eight, seven and four. Four naturally leads to three. Three, therefore, is the guide to four.

§ LVII. One, three, five, eight, seven, four and two. One or three will guide to two.

§ LVIII. One, three, five, eight, seven, four, two and six. Five will guide to six.

QUESTIONS.

In the use of one and three, how many changes may be produced? What are they? Ans. 1 3 and 3 1. Sing them.—How many changes may be produced with 1, 3 and 5, provided we commence with 1? What are they? Ans. 1 3 5, and 1 5 3. Sing them.—How many changes may be produced, beginning with 3? What are they? Ans. 3 1 5, and 3 5 1. Sing them.—How many changes may be produced with 5? What are they? Ans. 5 1 3, and 5 3 1. Sing them.—How many changes may be produced with 1 3 5 and 8, beginning with 1? What are they? Sing them.—How many, beginning with 3? What are they? Sing them.—How many, beginning with 5? What are they? Sing them.—How many, beginning with 8? What are they? Sing them.—To what sound does 7 naturally lead? Ans. 2.—What sound must we think of, to enable us to sing 7 right? Ans. 8.—What sound is a guide to 7?—To what sound does 4 lead? Ans. 3.—What sound is a guide to 4?—What sound will guide to 2? Ans. 1 or 3.—What sound will guide to 6? Ans. 5.

CHAPTER XI.

EXTENSION OF THE SCALE, AND CLASSIFICATION OF VOICES.

§ LIX. When sounds above eight are sung, eight is to be regarded as one of an upper scale.

§ LX. When sounds below one are sung, one is to be regarded as eight of a lower scale. PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

§ LXI. The human voice is naturally divided into four classes, viz: lowest male voices, or BASE; highest male voices, or TENOR; lowest female voices, or ALTO; highest female voices, or TREBLE. Boys, before their voices change, sing the ALTO.

NOTE. Besides the above distinctions, there is also the BARITONE, between the Base and Tenor and the MEZZO SOPRANO, between the Alto and Treble.

§ LXII. The following example exhibits the usual compass of the human voice, and also that of the different parts, as Base, Tenor, Alto, Treble § LXIII. The Treble or G clef is used for the Alto, and often for the Tenor; but when used for the Tenor it denotes G an octave lower than when used for the Treble or Alto. The following example exhibits the common use of the clefs.

NOTE. It is important that the difference of pitch between male and female voices be fully explained and illustrated

QUESTIONS.

When sounds above 8 are sung, as what are we to regard 8?—When sounds below 1 are sung, as what are we to regard 1?—Into how many classes is the human voice divided?—What are the lowest male voices called? What are the highest called?—What are the lowest female voices called? What are the highest called?

PRACTICAL EXERCISES in two parts.

Round in two parts.

NOTE. When the first voice passes the double bar and commences the third measure, the second voice is to begin. The pause is to be observed only by the second voice at the close.

Round in two parts.

CHAPTER XII

THE CHROMATIC SCALE.

§ LXIV. Between those sounds of the scale which are a step distant, there may be an intermediate sound a half-step distant from each; thus, intermediate sounds may occur between 1 and 2, 2 and 3, 4 and 5, 5 and 6, and 6 and 7; but not between 3 and 4, and 7 and 8, because the intervals between those sounds are already half-steps, and there is no smaller practicable interval.

§ LXV. The notes representing intermediate sounds may be written on the same degree of the staff with either of the sounds between which they occur. Thus the note representing the sound between 1 and 2 may be written upon the same degree of the staff as either of these sounds.

§ LXVI. When the note representing an intermediate sound is written on the same degree of the staff as the lower of the two sounds between which it occurs, a sign of elevation called a SHARP (\sharp) is placed before it, and the note, or letter, or sound is said to be sharped: as, Sharp one, Sharp two, &c. or $C\sharp$, $D\sharp$, &c. A sharp raises the pitch of a note a half-step.

§ LXVII. When the note representing an intermediate sound is written on the same degree of the staff as the upper of the two sounds between which it occurs, a sign of depression called a FLAT (\flat) is placed before it, and the note, or letter, or sound is said to be flatted: as, Flat seven, Flat six, &c. or $B\flat$, $A\flat$, &c. A flat lowers the pitch of a note a half-step.

§ LXVIII. In the application of syllables to the sharped sounds, the vowel sound is changed to ee. Thus sharp one is di, (pronounced dee,) sharp two ri, &c. In the application of syllables to the flatted sounds, the vowel sound is changed to a. Thus the flat seven is se, (pronounced sa,) flat six le, &c.

§ LXIX. A scale of thirteen sounds, including all the intermediate sounds and twelve intervals of a half-step each, is called the CHROMATIC SCALE.

EXAMPLE. The Chromatic Scale, Numerals, Letters and Syllables.

1	#1	2	#2	3	4	#4	5	#5	6	#6	7	8
C	C#	D	D#	E	F	F#	G	G#	A	A#	B	C
Do	Di	Re	Ri	Mi	Fa	Fi	Sol	Si	La	Li	Si	Do

8	7	b7	6	b6	5	b5	4	3	b3	2	b2	1
C	B	Bb	A	Ab	G	Gb	F	E	Eb	D	Db	C
Do	Si	Se	La	Le	Sol	Se	Fa	Mi	Me	Re	Re	Do

§ LXX. A sharp or a flat affects the letter on which it is placed throughout the measure in which it occurs.

EXAMPLE.

NOTE. In the above example the sharp affects both Cs in the first measure, but not the C in the second measure.

§ LXXI. When a sharped or flatted note is continued on the same degree of the staff from one measure to another without any intervening note, the influence of the sharp or flat is also continued.

EXAMPLE.

§ LXXII. When it is necessary to contradict a flat or a sharp, or to take away the effect of either of these characters, a character called a NATURAL (♮) is used.

EXAMPLE.

§ LXXIII. A sharped note naturally leads to the next degree above it, and a flatted note to the next degree below it. Hence it is easy to sing a sharped note in connexion with the note next above it, and a flatted note in connexion with the note next below it.

PRACTICAL EXERCISE.

NOTE. Tunes in the key of C may now be introduced.

QUESTIONS

Between what sounds of the scale may intermediate sounds be produced? Ans. 1 and 2, 2 and 3, 4 and 5, 5 and 6, and 6 and 7.—Why can there not be an intermediate sound between 3 and 4, and 7 and 8?—What is the sign of elevation called, by which intermediate sounds are indicated?—What is the sign of depression called, by which intermediate sounds are indicated?—When a sharp is placed before a note, how much higher is its sound?—When a flat is placed before a note, how much lower is its sound?—What is the intermediate sound between 1 and 2 called, when it derives its name from 1? Ans. \sharp 1. What letter? Ans. \sharp C. —What is it called, when it derives its name from 2? Ans. \sharp 2. What letter? Ans. \sharp D. (NOTE. Ask similar questions with respect to the other sounds.)—By what character is the ascending chromatic scale formed?—By what character is the descending chromatic scale formed?—Are flats and sharps rhythmical, melodic, or dynamic characters?—Does a sharpened sound naturally lead upwards, or downwards?—To what does \sharp 2 lead? &c.—Does a flattened sound naturally lead upwards, or downwards?—To what does \flat 7 lead? &c.—Which is the guide to a sharpened sound?—Which is the guide to a flattened sound?—What is the guide to \sharp 4? &c.—What is the guide to \flat 7? &c.—How far does the influence of a flat or sharp extend? Ans. Through the measure in which it occurs.—Under what circumstances does the influence of a sharp, or flat, extend beyond the measure in which it occurs? Ans. When the same sound is continued from measure to measure.—When it is necessary to take away the effect of a sharp or flat, what character is used?

CHAPTER XIII.

DIATONIC INTERVALS.

§ LXXIV. In addition to those intervals called Steps and half-steps belonging to the scale in its natural progression, there are also other intervals occasioned by skipping; as, SECONDS, THIRDS, FOURTHS, FIFTHS, SIXTHS, SEVENTHS and OCTAVES

§ LXXV. Intervals are always reckoned from the lower sound upwards, unless otherwise expressed.

DIATONIC INTERVALS.

NOTE. Diatonic, because they are produced by skips in the diatonic scale.

§ LXXVI. Two sounds being the same pitch, are called UNISON.

§ LXXVII. When the voice proceeds from any sound to that on the next degree of the staff, the interval is called a SECOND; as from 1 to 2, 2 to 3, &c.

§ LXXVIII. When the voice skips over one degree, the interval is called a THIRD; as from 1 to 3, 2 to 4, &c.

§ LXXIX. When the voice skips over two degrees, the interval is called a FOURTH; as from 1 to 4, 2 to 5, &c.

§ LXXX. When the voice skips over three degrees, the interval is called a FIFTH; as from 1 to 5, 2 to 6, &c.

§ LXXXI. When the voice skips over four degrees, the interval is called a SIXTH, as from 1 to 6, 2 to 7, &c.

§ LXXXII. When the voice skips over five degrees, the interval is called a SEVENTH; as from 1 to 7, 2 to 8, &c.

§ LXXXIII. When the voice skips over six degrees, the interval is called an OCTAVE; as from 1 to 8, 2 to 9, &c.

QUESTIONS.

When two sounds are both the same pitch, what are they called? Ans. UNISON.—When we proceed from any note to that which is written on the next degree of the staff, what is the interval called? Ans. SECOND.—When we skip over one degree of the staff, what is the interval called? Ans. THIRD. When we skip two degrees? Fourth. When we skip three degrees? Fifth. When we skip four degrees? Sixth. When we skip five degrees? Seventh. When we skip six degrees? Eighth, or OCTAVE

CHAPTER XIV.

MAJOR AND MINOR INTERVALS.

NOTE. This chapter may, if thought best, be omitted.

§ LXXXIV. Seconds.

1. A second consisting of a half-step, is a MINOR SECOND.
2. A second consisting of a step, is a MAJOR SECOND.

§ LXXXV. Thirds.

1. A third consisting of a step and a half-step, is MINOR.
2. A third consisting of two steps, is MAJOR.

§ LXXXVI. Fourths.

1. A fourth consisting of two steps and one half-step, is a PERFECT FOURTH.
2. A fourth consisting of three steps, is a SHARP FOURTH

§ LXXXVII. Fifths.

1. A fifth consisting of two steps and two half-steps, is a FLAT FIFTH.
2. A fifth consisting of three steps and a half-step, is a PERFECT FIFTH.

§ LXXXVIII. Sixths.

1. A sixth consisting of three steps and two half-steps, is MINOR.
2. A sixth consisting of four steps and a half-step, is MAJOR

§ LXXXIX. Sevenths.

1. A seventh consisting of four steps and two half-steps, is a FLAT SEVENTH.
2. A seventh consisting of five steps and one half-step, is a SHARP SEVENTH.

§ XC. OCTAVE. An OCTAVE consists of five steps and two half-steps.

§ XCI. MINOR INTERVALS ALTERED TO MAJOR. If the lower note of any minor interval be flatted, or the upper one sharpened, the interval becomes major.

§ XCII. MAJOR INTERVALS ALTERED TO MINOR. If the lower note of any major interval be sharpened, or the upper one flatted, the interval becomes minor.

§ XCIII. EXTREME SHARP INTERVALS. If the lower note of any major interval be flatted, or the upper one sharpened, the interval becomes SUPERFLUOUS, or EXTREME sharp.

§ XCIV. EXTREME FLAT INTERVALS. If the lower note of any minor interval be sharpened, or the upper one flatted, the interval becomes DIMINISHED or EXTREME flat.

QUESTIONS.

If a second consists of a half-step, what is it called? Ans. Minor Second.—If a second consists of a step, what is it called? Major Second.—If a third consists of a step and a half-step, what is it called?—If a third consists of two steps, what is it called?—If a fourth consists of two steps and one half-step, what is it called?—If a fourth consists of three steps, what is it called?—If a fifth consists of two steps and two half-steps, what is it called?—If a fifth consists of three steps and one half-step, what is it called?—If a sixth consists of three steps and two half-steps, what is it called?—If a sixth consists of four steps and one half-step, what is it called?—If a seventh consists of four steps and two half-steps, what is it called?—If a seventh consists of five steps and one half-step, what is it called?—If an octave consists of five steps and two half-steps, what is it called?—Minor Intervals altered to Major. If the lower sound of any minor interval be flatted, what does the interval become?—If the upper sound of any minor interval be sharpened, what does it become?—Major Intervals altered to Minor. If the lower sound of any major interval be sharpened, what does the interval become?—If the upper sound of any major interval be flatted, what does the interval become?—Extreme Sharp Intervals. If the lower sound of any major interval be flatted, what does the interval become?—If the upper sound of any major interval be sharpened, what does the interval become?—Extreme Flat Intervals. If the lower sound of any minor interval be sharpened, what does the interval become?—If the upper sound of any minor interval be flatted, what does the interval become?

RHYTHMICAL CLASSIFICATION. TWO NOTES TO EACH PART OF THE MEASURE, OR COMPOUND FORMS. EIGHTH RESTS. TRIPLETS. REPEAT.

§ XCV. When two or more notes come to each part of a measure, they are to be considered as constituting the primitive form of the measure, and are to be taken as the standard by which to determine the length of longer notes. Such forms of measure with their derivatives are called Compound Relations, or Compound Forms of Measure.

EXAMPLE.

Eighth Relations

Primitive.	4	4	4
1st Derivative.	2	2	2
2d Derivative.	1	1	1

NOTE. Other examples may be exhibited on the Black Board, as Quarters in 4-2, or 3-2, &c.

§ XCVI. Eighth Rests. r r r

§ XCVII. Three notes are sometimes sung to one beat, or part of a measure. The figure 3 is placed over such notes, and they are called TRIPLETS.

§ XCVIII. REPEAT. Dots across the staff require the repetition of the strain.

DYNAMIC TONES.

§ CII. ORGAN TONE. A sound which is commenced, continued and ended with an equal degree of power, is called an ORGAN TONE. (==)

§ CIII. CRESCENDO. A sound commencing soft and gradually increasing to loud, is called CRESCENDO. (cres. or <)

§ CIV. DIMINUENDO. A sound commencing loud and gradually diminishing to soft, is called DIMINUENDO. (dim. or >)

§ CV. SWELL. An union of the crescendo and diminuendo, produces the SWELLING TONE, or SWELL. (< >)

NOTE. Sing the scale very slow, (ah,) applying the swell.

§ CVI. PRESSURE TONE. A very sudden crescendo, or swell, is called a PRESSURE TONE. (< or >)

EXAMPLE.

§ CVII. EXPLOSIVE TONE. A sound which is struck suddenly, with very great force, and instantly diminished, is called an EXPLOSIVE TONE; also FORZANDO, or SFORZANDO. (> or sf. fz.)

EXAMPLES.

§ CVIII. The proper application of dynamics constitutes the form of musical expression

NOTE. Aspirate the first h in the syllable hah, with great power.

QUESTIONS.

When a sound is begun, continued, and ended, with an equal degree of power, what is it called?—When a sound is begun soft, and gradually increased to loud, what is it called?—When a sound is begun loud, and gradually diminished to soft, what is it called?—When the crescendo is united to the diminuendo, what is it called?—What is a very sudden crescendo called?—What is a very sudden diminish called?

CHAPTER XVIII.

TRANSPOSITION OF THE SCALE.

§ CIX. When C is taken as one, as it has always been hitherto, the scale is said to be in its natural position; but either of the other letters may be taken as one, in which case the scale is said to be TRANSPOSED.

§ CX. As one is the basis of the scale, the foundation on which it rests, so the letter which is taken for this sound is called the KEY. Thus, if the scale be in its natural position, it is said to be in the KEY of C; if G be taken as one, the scale is in the KEY of G, &c. By the key of C, is meant that C is one of the scale, or that the scale is based on C; by the key of G is meant that G is one of the scale, &c.

§ CXI. In transposing the scale the proper order of the intervals (steps and half-steps) must be preserved. Thus, the interval must always be a step from one to two, and from two to three, a half-step from three to four, a step from four to five, from five to six, and from six to seven, and a half-step from seven to eight.

§ CXII. The interval from one letter to another is always the same, and cannot be changed; thus it is always a step from C to D, and from D to E, a half-step from E to F, a step from F to G, from G to A, and from A to B, and a half-step from B to C. In the transposition of the scale, therefore, it becomes necessary to introduce sharps and flats, or to substitute sharped or flatted letters for the natural letters, so as to preserve the proper order of the intervals.

§ CXIII. First transposition by sharps; from C to G, a fifth higher, or a fourth lower.

EXAMPLE.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
G	A	B	C	D	E	F#	G	G	A	B	C	D	E	F#	G
Do	Re	Mi	Fa	Sol	La	Si	Do	Do	Re	Mi	Fa	Sol	La	Si	Do

§ CXIV. SIGNATURE. To preserve the proper order of intervals from six to seven, and from seven to eight, in the above transposition of the scale, it is necessary to substitute F# for F. The sharp is placed immediately after the clef, and is called the SIGNATURE (sign) of the key; thus the signature of the key of G is F#. The signature of the key of C is said to be natural.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES IN G.

QUESTIONS.

When is the scale said to be in the key of C?—Why is the scale said to be in the key of C, when C is taken as one?—Suppose G be taken as one, in what key would the scale be then?—What is meant by the key of C? D? E? F? &c.—When any other letter than C is taken as one, what is said of the scale?—In what key is the scale, when in its natural position?—In transposing the scale, what must we be careful to preserve unaltered?—What must the interval always be, from 1 to 2? 2 to 3? &c.—What is the interval, always, from C to D? D to E? &c.—How can the order of the intervals be preserved in transposing the scale?—What is the first transposition of the scale usually made?—How much higher is G, than C?—How much lower is G, than C?—What is the signature to the key of G?—What is the signature to the key of C?—Why is F sharpened in the key of G?—What sound has the key of G, that the key of C has not?—What sound has the key of C, that the key of G has not?—How many sounds have the keys of C and G in common?—What letter is 1, in the key of C?—What sound is C, in the key of G?—What letter is 2, in the key of C?—What sound is D, in the key of G?—[NOTE. Similar questions on the other letters and sounds.]—In transposing the scale from C to G, what sound is found to be wrong?—Is it too high, or too low?—What must we do with 4 in this case?—What does this sharpened 4th become in the new key of G?—What effect does sharpening the 4th have on the scale?—What must be done in order to transpose the scale a 5th?

§ CXV. Second transposition by sharps; from G to D, a fifth higher, or a fourth lower

EXAMPLE.

QUESTIONS

If the scale be transposed from G a fifth higher, to what letter will it go?—In order to transpose the scale a fifth, what must be done?—What is the 4th in the key of G?—What letter must be sharpened, then, in transposing from G to D?—What is the signature to the key of D?—What letters are sharpened?—Why?—How much higher is the key of G, than the key of C?—How much higher is the key of D, than the key of G?—What letter is 6, in the key of C?—What sound is A, in the key of G?—What sound is A, in the key of D?—[NOTE. Similar questions should be asked of other letters and sounds.]—What sound has the key of G, that the key of D has not?—What sound has the key of D, that the key of G has not?—How many sounds have the keys of G and D in common?—How many sounds have the keys of C and D in common?

§ CXVI. Third transposition by sharps; from D to A, a fifth higher, or a fourth lower.

QUESTIONS.

If the scale be transposed from D a fifth, to what letter will it go?—In order to transpose the scale a fifth higher, what must be done?—What is 4 in the key of D?—What letter, then, must be sharped, in transposing from D to A?—What is the signature to the key of A?—What letters are sharped?—How much higher is the key of A, than D?—How much higher is the key of D than G?—How much higher is the key of G, than C?—What sound is D, in the key of C?—What sound is D, in the key of D?—What sound is D, in the key of A?—What sound has the key of A, that D has not?—What sound has the key of D, that A has not?—How many sounds have the keys of A and D in common?

§ CXVII. Fourth transposition by sharps; from A to E, a fifth higher, or a fourth lower.

EXAMPLE.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES IN E.

QUESTIONS.

If the scale be transposed a fifth from A, to what letter will it go?—In order to transpose the scale a fifth, what must be done?—What is 4 in the key of A?—What letter, then, must be sharped, in transposing from A to E?—What is the signature to the key of E?—What letters are sharped?—Why?—How much higher is the key of E, than the key of A?—[NOTE Other questions may be asked, similar to those under the 1st, 2d and 3d transpositions.]

§ CXVIII. Fifth transposition by sharps. Key of B. Five sharps: F#, C#, G#, D# and A#. (Same as Cb.)

§ CXIX. Sixth transposition by sharps. Key of F#. Six sharps: F#, C#, G#, D#, A# and E#. (Same as Gb.)

§ CXX. Seventh transposition by sharps. Key of C#. Seven sharps: F#, C#, G#, D#, A#, E# and B#. (Same as Db.)

§ CXXI. Eighth transposition by sharps. Key of G#. Eight sharps: F#, C#, G#, D#, A#, E#, B# and F#. (Same as Ab.)

§ CXXII. In the last transposition, from C# to G#, a new character has been introduced on F#, called a DOUBLE SHARP.

QUESTIONS.

What key is a fifth higher than E?—What is the signature to the key of B?—What letters are sharpened in the key of B?—What key is a fifth higher than B?—What is the signature to the key of F?—What letters are sharpened in the key of F?—What key is a fifth higher than F?—What is the signature to the key of C?—What letters are sharpened in the key of C?—What key is a fifth higher than C?—What is the signature to the key of G?—What letters are sharpened in the key of G?—F having been sharpened before, what is it called when it is sharpened again?

§ CXXIII. The scale may be still further transposed by double sharps, but it is unnecessary, inasmuch as the same variety can be more easily obtained by transposition by flats. The keys beyond E are seldom used.

§ CXXIV. It will be observed that in each of the foregoing transpositions the scale has been removed a fifth, (or a fourth downwards,) and that at each transposition a new sharp on the fourth has been found necessary. Hence the following RULE: The sharp fourth transposes the scale a fifth.

§ CXXV. First transposition by flats; from C to F, a fourth higher, or a fifth lower.

EXAMPLE.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8
F G A B \flat C D E F Do Re Mi Fa Sol La Si Do

§ CXXVI. SIGNATURE. To preserve the proper order of intervals from three to four, and from four to five, in the above transposition of the scale, it is necessary to substitute B \flat for B. The flat is placed immediately after the clef, and is called the Signature; thus the signature of the key of F is B \flat .

QUESTIONS.

If the scale be transposed a 4th from E \flat , what will be the key?—What is the signature to the key of A \flat ?—What letters are flattened?—How does flattening the 7th, transpose the scale?—How much higher is A \flat than E \flat ?

§ CXXIX. Fifth transposition by flats. Key of D \flat . Five flats: B \flat , E \flat , A \flat , D \flat and G \flat . (Same as C \sharp .)

§ CXXX. Sixth transposition by flats. Key of G \flat . Six flats: B \flat , E \flat , A \flat , D \flat , G \flat and C \flat . (Same as F \sharp .)

§ CXXXI. Seventh transposition by flats. Key of C \flat . Seven flats: B \flat , E \flat , A \flat , D \flat , G \flat , C \flat and F \flat . (Same as B.)

§ CXXXII. Eighth transposition by flats. Key of F \flat . Eight flats: B \flat , E \flat , A \flat , D \flat , G \flat , C \flat , F \flat and B \flat .

§ CXXXIII. In the last transposition, from C \flat to F \flat , a new character is introduced on B \flat , called a DOUBLE FLAT.

QUESTIONS.

What key is a fourth from A \flat ?—What is the signature to D \flat ?—What letters are flattened in the key of D \flat ?—What key is a 4th from D \flat ?—What is the signature to the key of G \flat ?—What letters are flattened in the key of G \flat ?—What key is a 4th from G \flat ?—What is the signature to the key of C \flat ?—What etters are flatted in the key of C \flat ?—What key is a 4th from C \flat ?—What is the signature to the key of F \flat ?—What letters are flatted in the key of F \flat ?—B having been flatted before, what is it called when it is flatted again?

§ CXXXIV. The scale may be still further transposed by double flats, but it is unnecessary, inasmuch as the same variety can be more easily obtained by transposition by sharps. The keys beyond A \flat are seldom used.

§ CXXXV. It will be observed that in each of the foregoing transpositions by flats, the scale has been removed a fourth (or fifth downwards), and that at each transposition a new flat on the seventh has been found necessary. Hence the following RULE: The flat seventh transposes the scale a fourth.

CHAPTER XIX.

MINOR SCALE.

§ CXXXVI. In addition to the major scale as at Chapter IV, and the chromatic scale as at Chapter XII, there is another scale in which the intervals (steps and half-steps,) are differently placed, which is called the MINOR SCALE.

NOTE. The word mode is often used in connection with major and minor; as, Major mode and Minor mode.

§ CXXXVII. In the ascending minor scale the half-steps occur between two and three, and seven and eight; in descending between six and five, and three and two.

§ CXXXVIII. The minor scale in its natural position commences with A, or A is taken as one.

EXAMPLE. Scale in A minor.

† Half-steps.

§ CXXXIX. In the ascending minor scale, six and seven are altered from the signature, both being sharpened; but in descending, all the sounds remain unaltered from the signature.

§ CXL. When the major and minor scales have the same signature they are said to be related. Thus the key of C major is the relative major to A minor; and the key of A minor is the relative minor to C major.

§ CXLI. The relative minor to any major key is found a sixth above it, or is based upon its sixth; and the relative major to any minor key is found a third above it, or is based upon its third.

§ CXLII. It will be observed that the letters and syllables correspond in the major and its relative minor. Thus the syllable Do is applied to C in both cases, although it is one in the major and three in the minor mode.

§ CXLII. There is another form in which the minor scale is often used, in which there are three intervals of a half-step each, three of a step, and one of a step and half-step.

CHAPTER XX.

MODULATION.

§ CXLIII. When in a piece of music the scale is transposed, such change is called MODULATION.

§ CXLIV. The particular note by which the change is effected, is called the note of modulation.

§ CXLV. When a modulation occurs, the melodic relations of the sounds are immediately changed, and it is necessary for the singer to understand and feel this change, and to be governed by it.

§ CXLVI. If possible the change should be made in the mind of the performer before the note of modulation occurs, as this will enable him to get the true sound of that note.

§ CXLVII. In such changes as usually occur in psalmody, extending only to one or two measures, it is not necessary to change the syllables, but merely to alter the vowel sound, or termination of the syllable as at § LXVIII, but where the change is continued for sometime, the solmization of the new key should be adopted.

§ CXLVIII. The most common modulations are, 1st. from one to five, or from any key to that which is based upon its fifth; 2d. from one to four, or from any key to that which is based upon its fourth. These changes occur in almost every piece of music.

§ CXLIX. First modulation. From one to five. This change is produced by sharpening the fourth, which (sharp fourth) becomes seven in the new key. The sharp fourth is therefore the note of modulation between any key and its fifth.

§ CL. Second modulation. From one to four. This change is produced by flattening the seventh, which (flat seventh) becomes four in the new key. The flat seventh is therefore the note of modulation between any key and its fourth

CHAPTER XX.

PASSING NOTES, SHAKE, TURN, LEGATO AND STACCATO, AND MISCELLANEOUS CHARACTERS.

NOTE. The contents of this chapter may be introduced at any convenient time during the course.

§ CLI. PASSING NOTES. Ornamental or grace notes are often introduced into a melody that do not essentially belong to it; they are commonly written in smaller characters, and are called PASSING NOTES.

§ CLII. APPOGIATURE. When a passing note precedes an essential note, it is called an APPOGIATURE. The appoggiature occurs on the accented part of the measure.

§ CLIII. AFTER NOTE. When a passing note follows an essential note, it is called an AFTER NOTE. The after note occurs on the unaccented part of a measure

EXAMPLES

§ CLIV. SHAKE. The shake (tr) consists of a rapid alternation of two sounds, as in the following example. It has no place in common psalmody, but should be much cultivated by those who would acquire smoothness and flexibility of voice.

EXAMPLE.

§ CLV. TURN. The turn (∞) consists of a principal sound, with the sounds next above and below it. It should be performed with care and neatness, but not too quick.

EXAMPLES.

§ CLVI. LEGATO. When a passage is performed in a close, smooth and gliding manner, it is said to be LEGATO. (—)

EXAMPLE.

§ CLVII. STACCATO. When a passage is performed in a pointed, distinct and articulate manner, it is said to be STACCATO. (! ! ! !)

EXAMPLE.

§ CLVIII. TIE. A character called a TIE is used to show how many notes are to be sung to one syllable. It is also used to denote the legato style. (—)

§ CLIX. PAUSE. When a note is to be prolonged beyond its usual time, a character (—) called a PAUSE is placed over or under it.

§ CLX. DOUBLE BAR. A double bar (||) shows the end of a strain of the music, or of a line of the poetry.

§ CLXI. BRACE. A brace is used to connect the staves on which the different parts are written.

§ CLXII. DIRECT. The direct (w) is sometimes used at the end of a staff to show on what degree the first note of the following staff is placed.

NOTE. The following lessons may be sung by the whole school without any reference to the different sized notes, or they may be sung in two parts (responsive or conversational) as follows: the Base and Tenor sing the large, and the Alto and Treble the small (answering) notes; or, the Alto and Treble sing the large, and the Base and Tenor the small (answering) notes.

[illegible]

Handwritten musical notation for the first system of 'The Bird Song'. The staff contains a single melodic line with a treble clef. The notes are: G4 (quarter), A4 (quarter), B4 (quarter), C5 (quarter), B4 (quarter), A4 (quarter), G4 (quarter), F#4 (quarter), E4 (quarter), D4 (half). There are two fermatas, one over the G4 and one over the D4. The key signature has one sharp (F#).

16

The first system of the musical score for 'The Bird Song' consists of two staves. The upper staff is a treble clef with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). It contains four measures of music: the first measure has a quarter note G4, an eighth note A4, and a quarter note Bb4; the second measure has a quarter note C5, an eighth note Bb4, and a quarter note A4; the third measure has a quarter note G4, an eighth note F4, and a quarter note E4; the fourth measure has a half note D4. The lower staff is a bass clef with a key signature of one flat. It contains four measures: the first measure has a half note G3; the second measure has a half note F3; the third measure has a half note E3; and the fourth measure has a half note D3. The system ends with a double bar line.

Octaves.

The first system of musical notation for 'The Bird Song' consists of two staves. The upper staff contains a melody of eighth and quarter notes, starting on a G4 and ending on a G5. The lower staff contains a bass line of eighth and quarter notes, starting on a G3 and ending on a G4. The key signature is one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 4/4.

ON CHANTING.

CHANTING is to some extent a union of the speaking and singing voices, or an agreement or alliance between speech and song. A chant has therefore a speaking and a singing part; the former is called the reciting note, the latter the cadence. Most of the words are uttered to the reciting note, while the voice reposes on the singing sounds of the cadence in connection with a few of the last words of the verse or sentence. The Chant in its common form (single) has two musical phrases: the first consists of the reciting note and a cadence of two measures; the second, of a reciting note and a cadence of three measures.* The reciting note is not designed to represent any particular length, or to bear any proportion to the time of the other notes, but it is used merely to designate the pitch on which the words are to be recited, and is to be made longer or shorter, according to the length of the verse. The words appropriated to the reciting note are not to be sung (dwelt upon as in singing,) but to be said or spoken, as a good reader would pronounce them, except that this is to be done, at a given pitch, and without inflexions. The same general rules, therefore, that apply to reading, in relation to articulation, pronunciation, emphasis, pauses and expression, are equally applicable to the reciting part of a chant. It is a very common fault that there is too much of the cantabile, or singing quality of voice, heard in chanting. The cadence is indeed permitted to sing, but even here where time is observed and the vowel sounds are prolonged, there should be more of a speaking enunciation than in common singing.

It is often said that a Choir cannot be made to chant together, but this is certainly a mistake. It is undoubtedly somewhat difficult, and like every thing else that is good, requires some labor, but the end is well worth the means; and every choir should practice it, not only because of its own excellence, but because it is one of the best exercises to promote a correct articulation and delivery of the words in common psalmody.

The following method for teaching chanting is recommended. Let the teacher first carefully read over a line, or verse of the poetry, and immediately afterwards let the choir read simultaneously the same line or verse, imitating as nearly as possible the manner of the teacher; and so proceed through the psalm. When this can be well done, let him instead of reading the line or verse, recite it to a given pitch convenient to all, but without any cadence, and to this also let the choir respond in like manner as before. From this it is not difficult to proceed one step further and add the cadence, which makes the chant complete.

In many of the churches in England the chanting is performed so very rapidly that not only the words are wholly lost, but even the injunction of the Apostle, to let all things be done "decently and in order," seems to be disregarded. Such an excessive and almost frivolous rapidity of utterance is alike at variance with good taste in reading, and with devotional feeling. The words appropriated to the reciting note should be uttered about as fast as they are to be read, taking care to preserve a pure delivery of the voice, and giving special attention to articulation, pauses and emphasis. There should be no attempt to sing louder than any one else, or to recite faster, or to see who can fairly get to the last syllable first, but reverence, gravity and dignity should pervade the whole performance.

A chant, both in its melody and harmony, should be easy and natural, consisting of the most common progressions, and avoiding all difficult intervals and combinations. The most perfect and beautiful specimens of chants are those of the old masters, in which the melody is confined to a small compass, and moves almost always by seconds. See No. 11 by Farrant, 20 Gregorian; 25 Tallis, 38 Palestrina, and others.

On page 347, Chants have been applied to Metrical Psalms and Hymns. It will be seen at once that any Psalm or Hymn may be sung to any of the Chants in this way, and thus that a new and interesting department in Church Music is opened, by which a much greater variety may be introduced into this part of public worship. The form of Metrical Chanting which is believed will be found the most interesting and effective, is that which is illustrated at No. 74, making a cadence at the end of the second and fourth lines of each stanza. While the chanting of Psalms and Hymns will in no case, perhaps, be found inappropriate, there is a peculiar propriety in applying this mode of performance to those Psalms and Hymns which are of a didactic, narrative, or hortatory character.

Many of the chants in this work are designed for antiphonal or responsive performance. This may be done by having a single voice sing the first phrase of the chant, or one voice on a part, and the response made by the full choir. A single voice is to be preferred, because the contrast is then the most striking. See No. 70, where the first strain may be sung by a single base, or alto voice, while the chorus respond in the second strain, and so on through the whole Psalm. The addition of the Hallelujahs is a peculiar feature in the chants contained in this work. These have been, many of them, written much after the manner of the Gregorian Chants; and in some instances copied almost exactly from them.

It is gratifying to know that Chanting is beginning to be appreciated. It is a form of Church Music so scriptural, so venerable, so simple, and so exclusively appropriate to the circumstances of religious worship, that it must be constantly gaining in favor with all those who "love to sing and make melody in their hearts to the Lord."

* In this work, when the structure of a Chant deviates from this rule, it is called "peculiar."

1. Triumphant Zi-on! lift thy head From dust, and dark-ness, and the dead! Tho' humbled long, awake at length, And gird thee with thy Savior's strength, And gird thee with thy Savior's strength.
 2. Put all thy beauteous garments on, And let thy ex - cellence be known: Deck'd in the robes of righteousness, Thy glories shall the world confess, Thy glories shall the world con-fess.

Ritard.

3. No more shall foes unclean in - vade, And fill thy hallowed walls with dread; No more shall hell's insulting host Their victory and thy sorrows boast, Their victory and thy sor-rows boast.

Ritard.

4. God, from on high, has heard thy prayer; His hand thy ru - in shall repair: Nor will thy watchful Monarch cease To guard thee in e - ter - nal peace, To guard thee in e - ter - nal peace.

From Dr. WM. HAYES.
Chorus.

To God, who dwells on Zion's mount, Your loft-y voices raise; Thro' all the world his works recount, In solemn hymns of praise, In so-lemn hymns of praise.

SISERA. C. M.

Moderato.

As pants the hart for cool-ing streams, When heated in the chase, So longs my soul, O God, for thee, And thy re-fresh-ing grace.

Rather slow.

1 { Soon as I heard my Father say, "Ye children, seek my grace;" }
 { My heart replied without de-lay, "I'll seek my fa-ther's face." } Let not thy face be hid from me, Nor frown my soul away; God of my life I fly to thee, In each distress-ing day.

5 { Should friends and kindred, near and dear, Leave me to want or die. }
 { My God will make my life his care, And all my need supply. } Wait on the Lord, ye trembling saints, and keep your courage up; He'll raise your spirit when it faints, And far exceed your hope.

* This Tune which is derived from an Instrumental Composition by Pleyel, has been published as a Hymn Tune in a variety of forms, but all of them much at variance with the original, especially in the fifth and sixth lines. In this arrangement it is restored as near to the original as the adaptation of the words will permit. The rhythmic structure of the present copy has also been corrected, by which it is made comparatively easy to keep correct time.

Andante.

1. My son, know thou the Lord, Thy Father's God o-bey; Seek his pro-tect-ing care by night, Seek his protecting care by night, His guardian hand by day.

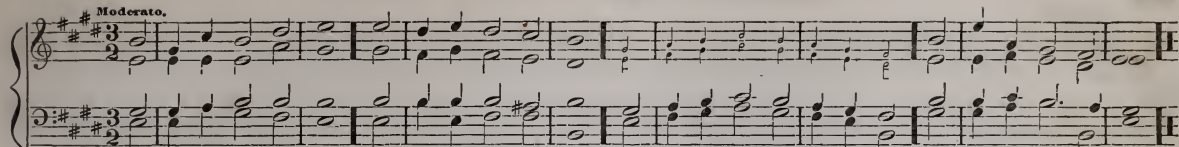

2. Call, while he may be found, Oh seek him while he's near; Serve him with all thy heart and mind, Serve him with all thy heart and mind, And worship him with fear.

3. If thou wilt seek his face, His ear will hear thy cry; Then shalt thou find his mer-cy sure, Then shalt thou find his mercy sure, His grace for-ev-er nigh.

4. But if thou leave thy God, Nor choose the path to heav'n; Then shalt thou perish in thy sins, Then shalt thou perish in thy sins, And nev-er be forgiven.

Moderato.

1. Ye tribes of Adam, join With heav'n and earth, and seas, And of-fer notes di - vine To your Cre-a-tor's praise. Ye ho-ly throng Of an-gels bright, In worlds of light Be - gin the song.

2. The shining worlds a - bove In glorious or-der stand, Or in swift courses move By his supreme command. He spake the word, And all their frame From nothing came To praise the Lord.

3. Let all the nations fear The God that rules above; He brings his people near, And makes them taste his love: While earth and sky Attempt his praise, His saints shall raise His honors high.

Moderato.

1. To spend one sa-cred day Where God and saints abide, Af-fords di - vi-ner joy Than thousand days beside : Where God re-sorts, I love it more To keep the door Than shine in courts.

2. God is our sun and shield, Our light, and our de-fence : With gifts his hands are filled; We draw our blessings thence: He shall be-stow On Jacob's race, Pe-cu-liar grace, And glo-ry too.

3. The Lord his peo-ple loves ; His hand no good withholds From those his heart approves, From pure and upright souls : Thrice hap-py he, O God of hosts! Whose spirit trusts Aloue in thee.

Moderato.

1. Where is my Savior now, Whose smiles I once possessed? Till he return, I bow, By heaviest grief oppressed : My days of hap-pi-ness are gone, And I am left to weep a-lone.

2. Where can the mourner go, And tell his tale of grief? Ah ! who can soothe his wo, And give him sweet relief? Earth cannot heal the wounded breast, Or give the troubled sin-ner rest.

3. Je - sus, thy smiles in - part; My dearest Lord, re-tu-ru, And ease my wounded heart, And bid me cease to mourn : Then shall this night of sorrow flee, And peace and heav'n be found in thee.

1. Praise to God!—im - mor - tal praise, For the love that crowns our days: Bounteous Source of ev' - ry joy, Let thy praise our tongues employ.

2. All that spring, with bounteous hand, Scat-ters o'er the smi-ling land; All that liber-al au-tumn pours From her rich, o'er flow-ing stores,—

3. These, to that dear Source we owe Whence our sweetest comforts flow; These, thro' all my hap-py days, Claim my cheer-ful songs of praise.

4. Lord, to thee my soul should raise Grate-ful nev-er - end-ing praise; And, when ev' - ry bless-ing's flown, Love thee for THY-SELF a-lone.

Originally written on the occasion of the death of Miss M. J. C. a member of Mount Vernon School, Boston, July 13, 1833.

Slow and soft.

This tune may be sung as a duett by Treble voices.

1. Sis-ter, thou wast mild and love-ly, Gen-tle as the summer breeze, Pleasant as the air of evening When it floats among the trees.
 2. Peaceful be thy si-lent slumber, Peaceful in the grave so low; Thou no more wilt join our num-ber, Thou no more our songs shall know
 3. Dearest sis-ter, thou hast left us, Here thy loss we deep-ly feel, But 'tis God that hath be-reft us, He can ail our sor-row heal,
 4. Yet a gain we hope to meet thee, When the day of life is fled. Then, in heaven, with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tear is shed

HYMN. There is an hour of peaceful rest.

Words by W. B. TAPPAN.
Music arranged from J. A. NAUMANN.

Slow and soft.

1. There is an hour of peaceful rest, To mourning wanderers given: There is a joy for souls distressed, A home for every wounded breast, 'Tis found a-lone in heaven.

2. There is a home for weary souls, By sin and sorrow driven; When tossed on life's tempestuous shoals, Where storms arise, and ocean rolls, And all is drear-'tis heaven.

3. There faith lifts up her cheerful eye, The heart no longer riven; And views the tempest passing by, The evening shadows quickly fly, And all se-re-ne in heaven.

4. There fragrant flowers, immortal, bloom, And joys supreme are given; Their rays divine disperse the gloom; Beyond the dark and narrow town Ap-pears the dawn of heaven.

HYMN. No war nor battle's sound.

Moderato.

The 2d, 3d & 4th stanzas of this hymn, by H. G. O. Dwight, Missionary, at Constantinople.

1. No war nor battle's sound Was heard the earth around, No hos-tile chiefs to fu-rious com-bat ran. But peaceful was the night, which the Prince of light,
2. No conqueror's sword he bore, Nor war-like armor wore, Nor haughty passions rods'd to con-test wild. In peace and love he came, And gen-tle was the reign,

3. Un-will-ing kings obeyed, And sheath'd the battle blade, And call'd their bloody le-gions from the field. In si-lent awe they wait, And close the warrior's gate,

4. The peaceful conqueror goes, And triumphs o'er his foes, His weapons drawn from ar-mo-ries a-bove. Behold the vanquish'd sit, Sub-mis-sive at his feet,

HYMN. Praise the Lord. [THANKSGIVING.]

Words translated from the German,
Music arranged from ROLLE.

Allegro.

1. Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord, when blush-ing morning Wakes the blossoms fresh with dew; Praise him when reviv-ed ere-a-tion, Beams with beauties fair and new.
2. Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord, when ear-ly bree-zes Come so fra-grant from the flowers; Praise, thou wil-low, by the brook side; Praise, ye birds a-mong the bowers.

3. Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord, and may his blessing Guide us in the way of truth; Keep our feet from paths of er-ror, Make us ho-ly in our youth.

4. Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord, ye hosts of heaven; An-gels, sing your sweet-est lays, All things ut-ter forth his glo-ry; Sound a-loud Je-ho-vah's praise

Moderato.

Our Fa - ther who art in heav'n; Hal-low - ed be thy name: Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heav'n: Give us this

The first system of the musical score is in 2/2 time, key of B-flat major. It features a piano accompaniment with a simple harmonic structure and a vocal line with lyrics. The lyrics are: "Our Fa - ther who art in heav'n; Hal-low - ed be thy name: Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heav'n: Give us this".

day our dai - ly bread: And for-give us our tres-pass - es as we for-give them that tres-pass a-gainst us. And lead us not in - to temp -

The second system continues the musical score. The lyrics are: "day our dai - ly bread: And for-give us our tres-pass - es as we for-give them that tres-pass a-gainst us. And lead us not in - to temp -".

ta - tion, but de - liv - er us from e - vil; For thine is the kingdom, and the pow - er, and the glo - ry, for - ev - er and ev - er, A - - men.

The third system concludes the musical score. The lyrics are: "ta - tion, but de - liv - er us from e - vil; For thine is the kingdom, and the pow - er, and the glo - ry, for - ev - er and ev - er, A - - men." The system includes a crescendo marking and a final cadence.

In some parts of Germany the Lord's Prayer is chanted by the Lutheran Priests at the altar, to music moving (as do the lamentations of the Catholic Church) only by a few small and easy intervals, almost always within the range of one to four of the scale, and producing a peculiarly devout, child-like and suppliant expression. The music here set to the same words, is in the spirit and style of the German, and from the words "For thine is the kingdom" to the end it is almost exactly the same as was heard under the circumstances above mentioned.

HYMN. Oft as the Bell.

J. WHITAKER.

Slow and solemn.

1. Oft as the bell with sol-enn toll, Speaks the de-part-ure of a soul, Let each one ask him-self, "Am I Pre-par'd, should I be call'd to die."

2. Soon leaving all I love be-low, To God's tri-bu-nal I must go; Must hear the Judge pro-nounce my fate, And fix my ev-er-last-ing state.

3. But when the sol-enn bell I hear, If freed from guilt, I need not fear; Nor would the thought dis-tressing be, "Per-haps it next may toll for me."

4. Rather my spir-it would re-joice, Longing to hear thy gra-cious voice; Glad when it bids me earth re-sign, Se-cure of heaven, if thou art mine.

PSALM 118.

- 1st Choir. 1. See what a living stone ⁴ The builders | did re- | fuse;
2d Choir. Yet God has built his church thereon, ⁴ In | spite of | envious | Jews.
- 1st Choir. 2. The scribe and angry priest ⁴ Reject thine | only | Son;
2d Choir. Yet on this rock shall Zion rest, ⁴ As the .. chief | corner | stone. (Sym.)
- Chorus by the whole congregation. Tune St. Thomas, p. 146—slow and steady.
3. The work, O Lord, is thine, And wondrous in our eyes,
This day declares it all divine, This day did Jesus rise.

- 1st Choir. 4. This is the glorious day, ⁴ That our Re- | deemer | made,
2d Choir. Let us rejoice, ⁴ and sing, ⁴ and pray, ⁴ Let | all the | church be | glad.
- 1st Choir. 5. Hosanna ⁴ to the King Of David's | royal | blood:
2d Choir. Bless him, ye saints; ⁴ he comes to bring Sal- | vation | from your | God.

(Sym.)

Chorus by the whole congregation, as before.

6. f We bless thine holy word Which all this grace displays;
And offer on thine altar, Lord, Our sacrifice of praise

NEW SCHOOL MUSIC BOOKS.

THE PRIMARY SCHOOL MUSIC BOOK, in two Parts. The First Part, containing of Songs, &c. &c. for Singing Schools; and the Second Part, containing of an explanation of the Inductive or Pestalozzian method of teaching Music, &c. &c. By L. MASON and G. J. WEBB, Professors in the Boston Academy of Music. It is supposed that any person, or person, although she may know so little of the musical characters as not to be able to read music, by the use of the book, will be enabled to teach her pupils with good success, and thus prepare the way for a more thorough and extensive course in music.

THE SONG BOOK OF THE SCHOOL ROOM; Consisting of a collection of songs, &c. &c. with appropriate motions, arranged to be sung in one, two, or three parts; containing, also, the Inductive or Pestalozzian method of teaching Music, &c. &c. By L. MASON and G. J. WEBB, Professors in the Boston Academy of Music. This book has been adopted by many of the best schools in the country. It is well adapted to the wants of school children, and will be found a most valuable work, including the spiritual and educational, the moral and the physical, and the intellectual.

Teachers and school-committees are requested to examine the above works.
