J. P. Knight.

Allegretto.

p f

I'm much too young to mar-ry, For I'm on-ly se-ven-teen; Why think I then of Har-ry, What can it mean? When e-ver Har-ry meets me, Be-side the brook or on the green, How ten-der.ly he greets me! What can it mean?

When e'er my name he utters, A blush upon my cheek is seen, And then my breast so flutters! What can it mean? And when he mentions Cupid, Or smiling, calls me "fai-ry queen" I sigh and look so stupid! What can it mean?

Oh mer-cy! what can ail me? I'm growing wan and very lean; My spirits often fail me! What can it mean? I'm not in love! Oh smother such a thought at seven-teen, I'll go and ask my Mother

What can it mean?
