Critical notes

Heinrich Ernst Grosmann

Heinrich Ernst Grosmann (1732–1811) grew up and received his school education in Haderslev, at that time a town in the duchy of Schleswig under the reign of the Danish King. 1754 he graduated from the grammar school and travelled to Jena (in the duchy of Saxony) with a recommendation from his headmaster. He studied at the Jena university for 4 years. Upon his return he served as a private tutor at manor houses incl. *Tjele*¹ until 1760 where he was appointed cantor and teacher for elementary school classes at the grammar school associated with the cathedral of the Danish town Aarhus. Through the years he was promoted and 1781 was appointed vice headmaster of the grammar school after having passed a masters degree at the university of Copenhagen.² Grosmann retired as vice headmaster 1789 after having lost his sight but was allowed to carry on his work as cantor.³

At that time the church choirs of the Danish cathedrals consisted of disciples from the grammar schools. In Aarhus the most talented among them received extra music education from the cantor.⁴ It was among the duties of Grosmann as a cantor to prepare musical performances at the major festivals in the 2 churches in Aarhus. For that purpose he adapted existing works by composers like Georg Philipp Telemann by underlaying them Danish text, most likely in his own translation and inbetween also changing their instrumentation.⁵ But he also contributed with compositions of his own.

A part of his collection of scores and parts still exists. It was later donated to the State Library of Aarhus⁶ where it is preserved along with a collection of early 19th century scores from the library of the Aarhus grammar school.⁷ Unfortunately the Grosmann collection has still not been catalogued by the State Library, But it is partially registered in RISM.⁸

The music reflects the repertoire Grosmann grew up with in his own school days. It may appear old fashioned for his time and is hardly musically significant. But as stated by a former music librarian of the State Library: “Often the music history characteristic of an era emerges more clearly through the works of minor minds.”⁹

Grosmann played an important role in the music performances taking place in Aarhus around 1760¹⁰ in the house of count Frederik Danneskiold-Samsøe (1703–1770).¹¹

“Udbryd med Lov og Priis gienløste Siel”

This edition is the first modern edition of Grosmann’s cantata, Paa første og 2nden Paaske Dag, Udbryd med Lov og Priis gienløste Siel,¹² composed 1774. At the end of the conductor’s score (SC) is found a remark, “renskrevet 1792” (fair copy 1792). RISM considers SC an autograph, and the hand writing does indeed bear some resemblance with that of the conductor’s score of the cantata “Jubel Music” from 1760. Taken into account, however, that the composer lost his sight in 1789 SC may not be an autograph after all. The author of the cantata text is specified on the front page and at the beginning of SC: “Texten af Tullin” (text by Tullin). Grosmann most likely found the text, “Til en Paaskefest” in the posthumous collected works by the Norwegian-Danish writer Christian Baunmann Tullin (1728–1765).¹³ Most likely he had access to the book in the library of the Aarhus grammar school.¹⁴ Grosmann’s “Paaske Music” (Music for Easter) from 1775 is also to texts from the cantata text by Tullin.

According to the cover page the cantata is scored for 4 vocal parts (soprano, alto, tenor and bass), 2 natural horns or clarinet(s), 2 violins, viola and organ continuo.¹⁵ There is indeed a clarinet part in the set of manuscripts. But this part comprises the “Coro” movement only, and it is different from the horn parts. In the instrumental sections it follows the violin 1 part, more or less simplified, in the vocal sections it doubles the upper choral part. The viola part mentioned on the cover page is neither present among the separate parts nor in the full score. So the viola part in this modern edition has been added by the editor in analogy to Grosmann’s own viola parts from other cantatas like “Gud farer op etc.” (1791) for the Ascension feast. In the full score fair copy from 1792 as well as in the separate part for bass singers there are traces of an alternative underlaid text, see the Literary text below. That text most likely reflects a reuse of the cantata music performed at some feast for the Aarhus grammar school. The present clarinet part and the absent viola part may have been specific for that performance. The manuscript part for horn 1 contains music for a movement “Aria. Modig” (Aria, brave) found in the “Paaske Music” from 1775. This movement may originally have been part of the 1774 cantata.

Grosmann lived and worked in Aarhus housing a town musicians corps the members of which played all these instruments.¹⁶ Among their duties was to regularly assist the cantor at the church music.¹⁷

The preserved manuscripts include

SC	Conductor’s score.

FP	Front page.

Apart from the clarinetto and choral bass parts the separate parts are written by skilled copyists.

There is no separate part for stringed bass instruments (violoncello, double bass) among the manuscripts. Most likely they were not used in the performance. The Basso part in this edition is just a replication of the organ continuo part without figured bass digits.

This modern edition is mostly based on the separate parts for a couple of reasons: 1) The separate parts probably reflect the music that was actually performed more closely than the full score and 2) there are discrepancies between the instrumental parts in the full score and the music found in the separate parts.

Dynamics present either in the full score or in a separate parts are reflected in this modern edition. Dynamics and ornaments added by the editor are within angled brackets.

At du ved ham kan blive
Hans Himmel Brud?
Ak ja! du her hans Naades Afgrund seer.
Han gav sig selv: hvo kan vel give meer?
Saa lad sin Siel og være,
En Talsmand for hans Ære.

Duetto

Tak Jesu! Tak for al din Kierlighed!
Vor Mund og Siel er til din Lov bereed:
O lad os alle høste
Din Glæde som gienløste!

“School Cantata”

Coro

Med Lov og Priis vi nærmer os, Almægtige!
Modtag vor Tak for din Velsignelse.
Du Liv og Kræfter os har sparet.
Din Aand som alt opliver,
Arbejdet Fremgang giver.

Duetto

Benaade os o Gud med Viisdoms Aand
At planter vel og Dyrke med Forstand.
Lad alt i Skolen være
til Gavn og til din Ære.
