Thy gentle smile is far too bright
 To grace a lowly cot,
 The courtly scenes of dazzling light
 Shall be thy happy lot;
 The diamond and the orient pearl,
 With gems and rubies rare,
 Shall form a wreath to be entwined
 Amid thy raven hair.
 "Ah no! Ah no! —
 The Myrtle rose and sparkling vine,
 To me are far more dear,
 The costly gems and courtly scenes,
 This heart could never cheer —
 I love my tranquil home!
 I love my tranquil home!"
