Bonnie Ma-ry Hay I will lo'e thee yet, For thy eye. is the slae and thy hair is the jet; hair is the jet; The snaw is thy skin, and the rose. is thy cheek O bon-nie Ma-ry Hay I will lo'e thee yet.

Bon-nie Ma-ry Hay will you gang wi'

X

me, When the sun's in the west, to the hawthorn tree, hawthorn tree,

X

To the hawthorn tree, in the bonnie ber-ry den, And I'll tell you Ma-ry

X

how I lo'e you then.

Bonnie Mary Hay it's halliday to me,
 When thou art coothie, kind, and free,
 There's nae clouds in the lift, nor storms in the sky,
 My bonnie Mary Hay, when thou art nigh.

Bonnie Mary Hay thou mauna say me nay,
 But come to the bower by the hawthorn brae,
 But come to the bower, and I'll tell ye a' what's true,
 O Mary, I can ne'er lo'e ane but you.
