RACE THEF

We spot a loving couple at a well-known health resort.

Young Brown is "seeing life"

With someone-che's wife!

The husband comes upon the scene—red-handed they are caught. Brown smiles, and matters to himself, "There's going to be some sport." The hubby cries, "What do you mean by taking her away?" Says Brown, "R's very simple. Fill explain it, if I may,"

I've seen it on the pictures,
I've seen it on the screen.
I really thought, 'twixt me and you,
'Twas quite the proper thing to do.
I've seen those picture husbands
Shoot lovers down at sight:
So point your pisted. I sharft whine.
If you've not one, I'll lend you mine.
I know it isn't loaded.

The wife obtains forgiveness:

The lover flees from sight.

So take her back again, old stick,
Though 1 can't "flea," l'll "hop it," quick!
P've seen it on the pictures:

So it must be right!

So it's quite alright!

Within the dock a woman stands, with features like a hawk.

For some outrageous crime, She'll soon be doing "time."

They caught her with a hatchet, cutting Venus up like pork; But, when she hears the sentence, then she bobs up like a cork. "You'll have to give us women votes!" she cries, with face aglow. The magnistrate indulges in a grin, and says, "Quite sot"

Pve seen it on the pictures, Pve seen it on the screen. But I am just afraid that you Won't find them where you're going tol Just try a month in prison,

And want with all your might.

There's such a diff'rence, though, my pet,
In what you want, and what you'll get!

I've seen it on the pictures:

So it must be right!

I've seen it on the pictures,

But, while there's life, there's hope, dears So pray keep up the fight. I daresay if you're very nice, You'll g'ef the vote- in Paradise! P've seen it on the pictures; So it must be right!

The way our politicians do their duty makes one smirk

They try all kinds of tricks In party politics.

They fight like angry chickens; but the business part they shirk I often wonder when the dence they're going to do some work! But, lately, Pve been happy, and you'll guess the reason why: There's going to be a General Election—bye-and-byel

I've seen it on the screen.
They're going to squash Insurance Acts,
And do away with Income Tax!
We'll have a change of Party,
The prospect's very bright.
The Radicals have played the game;
But Tories mean to do the same!
I've seen it on the pictures;

But Music-hall producers
Will get a fearful fright.
With no Lloyd Georges to abuse,
We shan't have any more Revues;
But still, we've get the pictures;
So it's quite alright!

5

The Nations of the World to-day are roused by War's alarms

And British Pluck and Will We find in England still.

So it must be right!

From office, workshop, factory and peaceful country farms Brave British boys from far and near attend the call to arms. And while our lads in khaki and our boys in navy blue Stand side by side we fear not, for we know what they can do.

We've seen them on the pictures, We've seen them on the screen. In days of old they stood the test. And now we know they'll do their best We need not fear invasion

While British men can fight Though we've put up with German Bands No German shall invade our lands Except upon the pictures So we're quite all right! We'll have to teach the Kaiser
The strength of Britain's might
Aliheauth he loves to brag and boast,
Our Navy still will guard our coast,
We've seen them on the pictures
So it must be right!
