AUTUMN SONG.

See the leaves are falling,
Summer's dream is over,
Gone beyond recalling,
Dead leaves lie above her.

Our dream too is dying-
With the winter flowers,
See, the leaves are flying
Through the wind-swept bowers.

Summer birds have left us,
Our farewell forestalling,
Ere the hour bereft us,
See, the leaves are falling.

CLAUDE DEBUSSY,

WRITES UPON THE COMPOSITIONS OF

CYRIL SCOTT

AS FOLLOWS:—

CYRIL SCOTT is one of the rarest artists of the present generation. His rhythmical experiments, his technique, even his style of writing, may at first sight, appear strange and disconcerting. Inflexible severity, however, compels him to carry out to the full his particular system of esthetics, and his only.

"This music unfolds itself somewhat after the manner of those Javanese rhapsodies which, instead of being confined within traditional forms, are the outcome of imagination displaying itself in innumerable arabesques. And the incessantly changing aspects of the inner melody are an intoxication for the ear—are, in fact, irresistible. All these qualities are more than sufficient to justify confidence in this musician, so exceptionally equipped, although quite young."

"CYRIL SCOTT'S Songs are amongst the most delightful and original in the English Language.

"CYRIL SCOTT'S Pianoforte Works merit recognition from all those who are in any way interested in the trend of modern music.

"We have very few English writers of any note for the piano to-day, but of these, CYRIL SCOTT is in the very front rank."—From The Musician Standard.
