

The Bloodhound

Sung by

MR. HENRY PHILLIPS

WORDS BY

Harry Cornwall

Music by the

CHEVALIER SIGISMOND NEUKOMM.

BOSTON Published by OLIVER DITSON Washington S^c

MODERATO ASSAI.

Rise, Herod, my hound, from the stranger's floor! Old friend, we must 2^d Verse. What, Herod, old hound! dost re - - member the day, When I front - - ed the

A Story is told of a dog a species of Bloodhound, who accompanied his master through many countries, and once rescued him from death. A most extraordinary attachment is said to have existed between them; and to this, of course, must be referred the extraordinary sentiment with which the Song closes. The song itself may be supposed to have been sung on their return to the place of the man's nativity, and on his finding that all his former friends were dead.

20

wan - - der the world once more; For no one now liv - - eth to wolves, like a stag at bay; When down - wards they gal - - lop'd to wel - come us back: No come! let us speed on our fa - - - ted where we stood, Whilst I stagger'd with fear, with fear in the dark pine track.

wood. What matter the region, what matter the weather, No Dost re - member their howlings, their horri - ble speed, God, you and I travel till death together? And in God: how I pray'd for a friend in need! And he 4 3^d Verse.

Men tell us, dear friend, that the no - ble hound Must for e - - ver be p

lost in the worthless ground: Yet "Courage," "Fi - de - li - ty," "Love," (they say,) Bear man, as on wings, to his skies a - way!

f p

f p f f f

Well, He - rod! go tell them, what - e - ver may be, I'll hope I may

f sf sf sf

e - - ver be found by thee, by thee: If in sleep, in sleep:

p Rallentando.

If with Heav'n with Heav'n a - round, May'st thou follow e'en thither, my fp Tempo 1^o fp fp fp fp

dear Blood - hound, May'st thou follow e'en thither, my dear, my dear Blood fp fp fp fp fp fp f f

- hound!